Demands Ike Plan For Peace

Truman Says It Is General's Duty To Give 'Panacea' If He Has Such

ENROUTE WITH TRUMAN THROUGH CONNECTICUT (AP)—President Truman declared today it is Dwight D. Eisenhower's duty "to come and tell me right now" if he has "a panacea for Korea."

Truman told a crowd at Hartford, Conn., that Eisenhower had been "my military adviser" since he appointed him chief of staff. He said that if what Eisenhower had said is true, then "It's his duty to come and tell me right now."

He made this departure from his prepared text after saying of Eisenhower:

"He has compromised on Korea. He has said we were right to go into Korea but he's made vague promises about how he'll bring the boys back home. He has even criticized us for entering into truce negotiations but what would he be saying if we weren't doing everything we could to end the fighting?"

In his first speech in Connecticut Truman said that New England voters should "either keep this country in the right groove or you may send us into the most disastrous war in the history of the world."

That was at North Haven during a whirlwind automobile tour of Connecticut.

The President opened a two-day tour of New England at New Haven, leaving his campaign train there to go to Hartford by automobile.

As he carried his campaign for election of the Democratic presidential nominee, Adlai Stevenson, over Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower, Truman told Connecticut listeners that the nation had "a chance of having twenty eight million unemployed" if the Republicans win.

Stevenson, Truman said, is "not just throwing out baited hooks, trying to get votes."

"What he says he means for the entire 48 states.

"He hasn't made one kind of policy speech up here in Connecticut and another kind of policy speech in Virginia or North Carolina or some other southern state."

A turnout at Meriden, third automobile stop, was estimated by Police Chief Mike Carroll at 20,000 persons.

Veteran Connecticut reporters said the crowds were comparable to those who turned out during the Wilkie-Roosevelt campaign.

At Wallingford, Policeman Edward J. Loughlin estimated the crowd at 5,000 persons, although some other police officers said it ran 8,000 or more.

Truman declared at Wallingford:

"Frankly, I'm afraid of a professional soldier who lets Senator Taft run all over him and then embraces all the worst elements in the reactionary and isolationist wing of the Republican Party."

"I think you people up here in New England ought to think that over carefully.

"The Taft brand of Republicanism won't do you any good up here and it won't do the country any good or the peace of the world, either."

There were some scattered boos among the school children there, but they were barely audible beneath the cheers.

About 500 persons greeted the President at the New Haven railroad station.

Mr. Truman appeared to be in high spirits as he waved to the crowd. Hundreds of persons lined mid-town New Haven sidewalks as the Presidential caravan swept by at a moderate pace.

At Hartford President Truman told Connecticut voters that their "bread and butter" and their chance for world peace are tied up in the 1952 election.

And he renewed his onslaught on Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower by saying the GOP presidential nominee has abetted Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's "scurrilous, big-lie attack" on Gen. George C. Marshall.

Phil M. Donnelly

Gov. Donnelly Speaks Tonight At LaMonte Rally

Former Governor Phil M. Donnelly, Lebanon, Democratic candidate for governor of Missouri, will be the principal speaker at a rally to be held in the auditorium of the La Monte High School tonight. The meeting will begin at 8 p. m.

Tex Owens, star of record and radio fame, will be featured on the program, entertaining the crowd prior to the speaking of Gov. Donnelly.

Henry C. Salveter will introduce the former governor.

Donnelly is on the last lop of an extensive campaign tour thru Missouri and will present to the people of Pettis County his platform for good government. He is running on the record he made while serving as chief executive.

County candidates will be on the speakers' platform and will be introduced by James E. Durley, county chairman, who is to preside over the meeting. No talks are to be given by the candidates, relinquishing their time to Gov. Donnelly for his address and Tex Owen for his entertainment.

Iran Breaks Off Relations With Briton Over Oil

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—Iran broke off diplomatic relations with Britain today. It was a grave development in the bitter, 18-months-long dispute over nationalization of the 1½ million dollar holdings in Iran of Anglo - Iranian Oil Co. and seemed to rule out any chance now for a settlement.

Premier Mohammed Mossadegh, the frail but stubborn advocate of nationalization, made the announcement in a nationwide broadcast. He had intended the message for the Majlis — lower house of Parliament — but it did not convene because it lacked a quorum.

By breaking off relations he made good a threat voiced several weeks ago. It was also his reply to a British foreign office statement yesterday which lashed out personally at Mossadegh, saying he had overstepped the limits of international courtesy in his attacks upon Britain.

Mossadegh fired back today with a charge that the British "by a continuation of useless correspondence" intend to merely waste time and "prevent us from taking another economic path which would bring salvation and freedom to the Iranian people."

Last January, Iran, closed Britain's nine consulates in the country.

(Mossadegh's action today evoked little surprise at the British foreign office. There was no official comment but informants said the statement yesterday and the rejection of Mossadegh's latest offer in the Anglo-Iranian negotiations had virtually dared him to make the diplomatic break.

(In Washington U. S. officials said Mossadegh's decision "knocked sky high" efforts to find a solution to the oil dispute. They described the decision as "most unfortunate.")

$1,700,000 Fine For 'Smoke' Smuggler

Marseille, France, (AP)—A French court sentenced Jean DeStour to four months in jail and ordered him to pay a fine of 558 million francs ($1,700,000) for trying to smuggle six tons of American cigarettes into France from Tangier.

DeStour was grabbed by customs men as he neared the French Coast in a small craft. His cargo was seized.

Officials said last night DeStour probably would be allowed to make a settlement of the fine at a much lower figure.

Choral Club to Sing For Washington PTA

The Sedalia Men's Choral Club will sing at the Dad's night program at the regular meeting of Washington School PTA, which will be held at 7:30 p. m. Friday, Oct. 17.

Burns In Trailer

JASPER, Mo. (AP)—William Newton Rogers, 66, was found burned to death today in his house trailer.

Deputy Sheriff Paul Archer said he believed the man had tried to start a fire with kerosene and an explosion resulted. Rogers was a painter and did odd jobs about town.

Coalers' Beginning Big Strike

Several Thousands Off Work While Lewis Threatens A General Walkout

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Reports of growing restlessness came from the nation's coal fields today in the wake of a strike threat tossed at the industry by John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers.

Several thousand miners are off the job to back up demands for a pay hike being held up pending approval by the Wage Stabilization Board.

While there is no indication that the walkouts will spread quickly, both coal operators and the miners are keeping a close watch on Washington for developments.

The miners' anxiety over whether the WSB will approve the pay hike negotiated for them by Lewis was heightened yesterday when the mine chieftain told his members to refuse to work after Nov. 18 unless mine operators have made their increased royalty payments to the UMW welfare fund by that date.

The contract, now up before the WSB, called for an increase in the royalty payments of from 30 to 40 cents a ton in the soft coalfields. The contract also provides a wage boost of $1.90 a day.

In winding up the UMW Convention at Cincinnati, Lewis told delegates the contract specifies that each operator certify by Nov. 18, and the 18th of each month thereafter, that he has paid the royalty covering production for the previous month. Lewis added:

"I don't want any union to go to work on the 18th unless it is found that the welfare is paid. There are no ifs, and buts about it. The morning of the 18th is the deadline."

Shortly after Lewis spoke five Southern West Virginia mines employing some 2,100 men were closed by a walkout. Closest source to the UMW said the men apparently stayed home awaiting the WSB's approval of the $1.90 pay boost.

Approximately 3,155 Kentucky miners were reported on strike. Another 1,200 were off the job at four mines of Republic Steel Corp. in Western Pennsylvania.

There were smaller groups out in Illinois and Ohio.

From Washington came reports the WSB is expected to reach a vote by the end of this week.

Ross Spencer Here, to Japan In Near Future

WOJG Ross L. Spencer, former Sedalian, stationed at Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., the past 26 years, was a visitor in Sedalia Thursday with Mrs. Spencer at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Walter, route 4.

Warrant Officer Spencer enlisted in the United States Army in October 1926 and has been stationed at Ft. Leavenworth in the army printing office.

He has been ordered to Yohohama, Japan, for assignment and leaves within the next few days for Japan. Mrs. Spencer, a native of Ft. Leavenworth, will remain there until her husbond has been settled at his new station and obtains living quarters for them.

They came to Sedalia from a visit with relatives in Tulsa, Okla.

He is the son of the late Mrs. Maude C. Turner, and the family resided at 1121 East 10th before leaving Sedalia.

Records Center Tops 1953 Army Building

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Col. L. J. Lincoln, Army district engineer, said today a building to house armed service personnell records in St. Louis county will be among the top military projects in the Kansas City engineer district in 1953.

Colonel Lincoln said construction of the six-story building, costing from $18,000,000 to $20,000,000, is expected to begin about mid-year with completion scheduled for 1956.

Construction bids will be advertised next April, Colonel Lincoln said.

The center, part of the armed forces unification proect, will be used for the storage of servicemen's personnel files.

10 Percent Drop In Polio Cases

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Public Health Service said today the 2,757 new cases of infantile paralysis reported last week represented a 10 per cent drop below the 3,055 in the week ended Oct. 4 and added:

"The incidence is expected to decrease continuously during the remainder of the calendar year."

Pres. Truman Plays That Waltz Again

NEW BRITAIN, Conn. (AP) — President Harry S. Truman played "The Missouri Waltz' 'on a piano in front of the city hall here today before a campaign crowd estimated by police and secret service men at between 23,000 and 25,000.

Plans for him to play a duet with Mayor John L. Sullivan (D) were cancelled. Secret Service men would not permit two pianos on the platform.

100 Percent Firms For Community Chest

The fist two firms to report 100 per cent contributions, from both employer and employees, for the Community Chest are: Sedalia Ice and Cold Storage Co., and the MKT Shops.

Much stress is being made this year for 100 percent participation in the Community Chest so that all may have the privilege of assisting the eight worthy agencies which receive funds from the Chest.

Carpenters' Union Chief Backing Ike

Endorsement Comes As General Begins East Seaboard Drive

NEW YORK (AP) — Dwight D. Eisenhower today received the endorsement of the president of the AFL carpenters' Union as he pointed his hard-driving campaign onto the eastern seaboard.

M. A. Hutcheson, general president of the AFL United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, announced he will support the Republican presidential candidate.

Hutcheson, a Republican, said Eisenhower had given him "his solemn word that he will promote a sincere effort to eradicate unfair sections" of the Taft-Hartley Law.

Eisenhower conferred with Hutcheson and also with a group of small business men before leaving for New Jersey to open his campaign in the industrial East. He returned last night from a coast-to-coast campaign trip which carried him into the normally Democratic south.

After his conference with Eisenhower Hutcheson said he believed the general offered the best chance of bringing about peace and of adhering to a foreign policy that everyone, "particularly the Russians," can understand. He also said he thought an Eisenhower administration would be less "control minded."

The general flew into New York last night from a tour that started Sept. 30 and carried him through 28 states in 16 days by train, plane and automobile.

He has scheduled a grueling campaign for the days remaining before the election Nov. 4—with only Saturdays and Sundays off in the whistle stopping. He appeared to be standing the grind with surprising bounce.

With a good night's rest behind him, he will leave at noon today by automobile for Hackensack and Paterson, N. H. He will speak tonight at the Alfred E. Smith Memorial Foundation dinner at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel here.

Tomorrow he will set out on a 10-day concentrated sweep by train and plane into the New England states, New York and Pennsylvania. He is expected to concentrate his time and energy in the remaining days before election in the vote-heavy states of the East and Midwest.

Yesterday, he made his final bold bid for support in the Solid South by attempting to stir political rebellion in Texas, Louisiana and Tennessee.

In Ft. Worth, Dallas, Shreveport, Memphis and Knoxville, large and noisy crowds turned out to welcome him and heighten GOP hopes taat Dixie isn't as solid as it has been in the past.

He said the opposition's "big guns and little guns" were telling "plain lies" in saying his election would threaten another depression, threaten the social gains that have been made, and bring an end to public power development.

In his two stops in Tennessee, he took pains to declare his election would not "impair the effective working out" of the Tennessee Valley Authority program.

In Oregon last week, the general spoke out in opposition to federal authorities as the means of developing river basin resources. He proposed instead a co-operative program in which local, state and federal officials would work out the problems together.

Speaking in Memphis, however, he praised the TVA as a "great experiment." He said:

"TVA has served rural areas well and has created many new industries in this section. It has helped conserve natural resources control floods, and promote national defense. Certainly there would be no disposition on my part to impair the effective working out of TVA. It is a great experiment in resource development and flood control for this particular area."

But he said TVA should not be regarded as the "rigid pattern for such development in other regions." And he added that he favored an arrangement which would make state and federal agencies "true partners" in resources development.

"Our goal," he said, "should be to work out river basin development the way the people in the region want it done."

Temporary Embargo On Hogs at St. Louis

NATIONAL STOCKYARDS, Ill. (AP)—A temporary embargo on incoming and outgoing shipments of hogs was placed in effect here today.

Dr. E. O. Gisel, of the bureau of animal industry, said a ban was placed on outgoing shipments from the stockyards yesterday after a shipment of hogs arriving in New Jersey was suspected of suffering from vesicula exanthema.

Officials at the stockyards said the embargo will remain in effect until all hog pens are disinfected.

Slaughter Commies On Hills

Yanks Mow Down Waves of Chinese; ROKs Push Others Back In Two Battles

SEOUL (AP) — American machine gunners, crouching behind barbed wire barricades, today mowed down waves of Chinese Reds storming the crest of Triangle Hill on the Central Korean Front.

Savage fighting also swirled across the crest of rocky Pinpoint Hill, dominant peak on nearby Sniper Ridge. Twice the Reds stormed to the top and wrested control in bloody close-quarter fighting. Each time the South Koreans surged back and rewon the height.

Allied warplanes swarmed overhead and peeled off in trip-hammer blows. U. N. artillery blasted Chinese approach routes and raked towering Papa-san Mountain, the Chinese jumpoff point just to the north.

When U. S. 7th Division troops captured Triangle Hill Wednesday they ringed the crest with barbed wire. They were ready and waiting when a Chinese battalion—about 800 men—swarmed up the slopes just after dark Wednesday night.

The assaulting force was chopped to bits by machine guns.

At dawn Thursday another Red battalion charged up the slope. Again the machine guns chattered, again the Chinese faltered and broke.

The Americans consolidated their positions Thursday afternoon when they won the last Red-held knob on Triangle after a 90-minute fight.

Early Thursday morning the Reds pushed through the ROK defenses and gained momentary control of the crest of Sniper Ridge. The South Koreans rallied and stormed back to the top.

Just before dawn a Chinese battalion struck again, forcing the South Koreans back 200 yards. Again the ROKs rallied and counterattacked. They battled the Chinese hand to hand and finally drove them off at 9:30 a.m.

An Allied officer at the front said the South Koreans had restored all their positions at noon and were digging in against further expected Chinese onslaughts.

ROK soldiers combed the rocky caves of Sniper Ridge for stragglers. High explosives blasted shut the entrances to suspected red hideout caves.

The bodies of 308 Chinese littered the slopes. The South Koreans estimated total Red casualties at more than 500. They also captured 50,000 rounds of small arms ammunition and 850 grenades.

AP correspondent Milo Farneti at the front said the Chinese lost an estimated 2,535 casualties in the 2½ day battle for Triangle. He said the Chinese were able to recover most of their dead and wounded in the see-saw battle.

Truman's 1944 Campaign Fund Report Public

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A statement on contributions and expenditures of President Truman's 1944 vice-presidential campaign fund was released yesterday by Tom L. Evans, chairman of the fund.

Evans, a Kansas City radio station (KCMO) owner, said he had been bothered "day and night by queries about a 'special' fund for Mr. Truman's personal use outside the campaign.

"I would like to put it in black and white for all to see that there was nothing but a legal campaign fund. There was no separate fund collected by me and I know of no other."

He said the financial data was filed with congressional committees as required by law and "was open to anyone who cared to look at it then."

Of $33,390 collected, $16,228.89 was disbursed in regular campaign expenses and $5,200 was refunded to certain donors, Evans said. He added that a balance of $11,961.11 was turned over to the Democratic National Committee for the 1948 presidential campaign.

Contributors, according to the Evans statement, included:

Mrs. Eva L. Herndon, Warrensburg, $100; Judge H. E. Scholten, Springfield, Mo. $200; L. B. Schumacher, Clayton, $500; Crows, Seligman, Mo., $100; Hal Onstott, Joplin, $150; F. C. Wallover, Joplin, $100; L. Weems, Neosho, Mo., $15; and Claud W. Boone, Gainesville, Mo., $100.

Expenditures, the statement read included:

Child Hangs Herself In Basement Swing

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Five-year old Michele Feldman of suburban University City was found hanging from a noose in a rope swing yesterday in the basement of a friend's home.

The child and her mother, Mrs. Opal Feldman, were visiting the home of Mrs. Thomas Schneider in suburban Overland. Michele was playing in the basement of the home with 2½-year-old Michael Schneider.

Police said the child apparently hanged herself accidentally while playing with the swing.

Completes 50 Years of Service—

Green Ridge to Honor Doctor Hite at Gay Event Friday Nite

Fifty years of practicing medicine is to be celebrated, Friday night, Oct. 17, when Dr. H. A. Hite, Green Ridge, will be the honor guest at a gathering at the Green Ridge school building. A basket dinner is to be served starting at 7 p.m.

Friends, patients and former patients from other communities planned the celebration honoring Dr. Hite, who will turn his 50th anniversary Friday as a practicing physician in the Green Ridge community.

An appropriate program has been arranged by the committee in charge, and many doctors from surrounding areas, friends of Dr. Hite, have been invited to participate. Many babies delivered by Dr. Hite, who are now grown men and women, having their own families, will be on hand and participate in the activities.

"Doctor Hite Day" in Green Ridge Friday was designated by a proclamation of Mayor J. E. Stark. The people of the entire community have been invited, through the proclamation, to gather at the school house for the event and aid in paying tribute to Dr. Hite "for services he has rendered during this long period of time."

Mayor Stark, in his proclamation, said: "Dr. Hite has given generously of his time and talents to the people of this area in answering their calls for medical aid and assistance at all times and under all circumstances, during the past 50 years."

Colonel Didn't Belong There, But He Led Men to Take Hill

CENTRAL FRONT, Korea (AP)—The old colonel "didn't have any damn business up there" on Triangle Hill, the captain said, his bitterness tinged with admiration.

"I remember the colonel said he had a Rebel flag and was going to pin it up there."

"It was the most remarkable example of courage I have ever seen," the master sergeant said.

The old colonel worked his way up Triangle Hill to direct artillery fire. He led an infantry charge instead. That wasn't his job. He died on the edge of a Chinese trench at the crest.

"All the men were stunned and shocked from a grenade shower," the master sergeant recalled. "All the officers and platoon sergeants were hurt. hen he joined us, it was like a new outfit.

"The colonel told us he wanted to go up to the top and see if he could get some precision artillery zeroed in to help out the infantry. We had got the order to take the trench again."

The trench — 10 feet long, 6 feet deep and 4 feet wide — was at the crest of Triangle Hill, objective of U. S. Seventh Division troops who kicked off at dawn Tuesday in the biggest alliied attack of the year.

Four times two companies of the Seventh Division tried to take the trench. Four times their assaults melted in blasts of Chinese artillery, mortar and grenade fire.

After the fourth assault, M-Sgt. John Hanson, of Chief River Falls, Minn., took over command of his company. That was between 8 and 9 a. m. Every other senior leader had been killed or wounded.

Hanson reorganized his company and set the men to digging into the sand and shale 50 yards below the crest.

That's when the colonel showed up. He was stout and gray-haired.

"The colonel had been dodging mortar and artillery fire all morning", Hanson said. "They were peppering that draw and it wasn't light stuff. We got almost half our casualties in that draw the colonel worked his way through.

"Our two companies were completely disorganized by enemy grenades and mortar. A lieutenant from the other company tried to organize the men to attack again.

"The Chinese had let up tossing grenades at us for awhile.

"Before that, the Chinks had been standing up in their trenches, whirling satchel charges (sticks of dynamite tied together) over their heads like lassoes and heaving them down at our men. I think they were concussion charges that stunned and knocked you out instead of chopping you up with fragments.

"The colonel came up and asked us where there was a hole big enough for him to sit in.

"Then, without saying anything, he walked up to the top.

"He looked in the trench and waved his pistol for us to come up. He yelled that there weren't any Chinks in the trench.

"His voice had a tone of confidence. He was a striking-looking soldier.

"About 10 men scrambled up the slope after him. The colonel was sitting on the edge of the trench looking in. He yelled back for grenades.

"We threw him one and started up ourselves. He threw it in the trench and stepped back. The other men also stepped back.

"After the grenade exploded the colonel looked again. Just as he stuck his head over they set off a satchel charge. It made a terrific bang.

"He just doubled up and toppled over in the trench. We could see his feet kicking.

"Then the chinks followed up with grenades and burp guns. We answered with several volleys of small arms fire. The Chinks kept heaving and heaving grenades so we pulled off.

"I think I rolled back about 30 yards on my belly trying to miss those grenades. We took off for good.

"That's about it. That's exactly the way it came off."

Later, their memories fresh with the picture of the old colonel who didn't belong up there, whose legs should have given out long before he reached the top, Seventh Division infantrymen stormed and won the crest.

Expect Major Moves by Reds To Push Policies In UN

MOSCOW (AP)—With a new popular front policy outlined for world Communists, the spotlight shifted today from the 19th Soviet Communist Party Congress which just ended here to the halls of the United Nations in New York.

A strong Soviet delegation may now be expected to make a major effort to implement the policies outlined at the congress by Georgi Malenkov and Prime Minister Joseph Stalin. The chief of these delegates, Foreign Minister A. Y. Vishinsky, has been elected by the congress as a full member of the Communist central committee, and a raft of Soviet diplomats, including Andrei Gromyko, are alternates on the committee, bespeaking confidence of the Kremlin in these men.

Stalin has told Communists in the non-Communist countries they can be assured of Soviet support. In fact, he addressed his final speech at the congress Tuesday not to his domestic audience, but specifically to foreign Communists in capitalist countries. This put stress on the international aspect of Communism. The program now has several clear aspects.

First, Stalin stressed that Communists abroad who support the Soviet Union at the same time support the aims of people of their own nations. Second, he stressed a program abroad which would induce people to refuse to fight against the Soviet Union. Third, he strongly pointed up the importance of the example of the USSR and countries of people's democracy (Communist-ruled nations). This example, he counselled, is a factor which must be kept in mind by Communists abroad.

Stalin counselled that such a program gives every basis for hope of success of Communist parties abroad.

1,000 Pettis County Youths Receive Immunization Shots

"Didn't hurt," reported Jimmie Woodward casually Thursday morning as he walked out of the county school office at the courthouse. The six-year-old boy from Dresden had just been immunized against diphtheria, tetanus, and smallpox.

He grimly held up two fingers when asked how many times he had been stuck with a needle. The diphtheria and tetanus shots were combined. When asked whether he had been scared before he went in for his shots, Jimmie shook his head tersely and indicated that the whole conversation was being conducted on an irritatingly childish level.

Jimmie was one of approximately 1000 students from the first grade through high school in both rural and urban areas of Pettis County who streamed through the office Thursday for immunization. Not all of them were as nonchalant about it as he. There were many tears and much squirming, but the operation moved smoothly.

The diphtheria-tetanus combination shot was given to children from first through seventh grade, while the smallpox vaccination was given pupils from first grade through high school.

The youngsters filled the second floor hallway and the stairs leading to the third floor. Members of the Red Cross and Gray Ladies assisted. Mrs. John Murrell, school nurse, was in charge.

UN Talks On Korea Assured

No Big Opposition To Russian Demand For Debate During Election Campaign

UNITED Nations debate on Korea during the height of the American election campaign seemed assured today.

A spot-check showed no strong opposition to Russia's demand that the question be taken up at once. Soviet delegate Andrei Gromyko. demanded yesterday that the 60-nation political committee take up Korea as soon as it begins work—probably early next week.

Secretary of State Acheson planned to outline the American position on Korea in a policy speech late today. Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky may answer him tomorrow. These speeches will give the broad lines of opposing East-West thinking on Korea and lay the groundwork for the detailed debate.

The French and British delegations have opposed detailed discussion of Korea before the Nov. 4 election, expressing fear of making statements which would have political repercussions in the U. S.

Acheson's speech was expected to be of a general nature instead of a tough demand for red acceptance of a Korean armistice on U. N. terms.

Strong pressure from American Allies was said to have induced Acheson to moderate his plans for opening the Korean debate and to hold off on specific demands until Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky is heard.

The Russians indicated yesterday that they were eager to get the Korean debate going before the American presidential elections—and before the British and French foreign ministers arrive. Soviet Delegate Andrei Y. Gromyko demanded that the Korean question top the list of subjects to be discussed by the 60-nation Political Committee, where Acheson himself is expected to argue for the U. S.

Gromyko's demand was made in the important Steering Committee. Committee Chairman Lester B. Pearson of Canada, president of the General Assembly, replied that each committee would decide its own order of business. The Soviet delegate let it go at that.

The Korean question was 16th on the list of 72 items approved yesterday in a fast-moving sesson of the Steering Committee, which has the authority only to recommend the subjects to be discussed.

The committee usually takes two or three meetings to finish its recommendations, but with a minimum of debate—and most of that sparked by fiery objections from Gromyko—the group finished its work yesterday.

Czechoslovakia introduced a surprise proposal that the U. N. discuss condemning the United States Mutual Security Act. the Czechs charged that it aimed at interfering aggressively in the internal affairs of the Soviet Union and other Communist countries by financing "subversion, sabotage, espionage and terrorism" inside their territory.

The Assembly last year refused to vote such a condemnation, but Gromyko, coming to the aid of Czechoslovakia's Jiri Nosek, said the charge still has "not lost its urgency." He said U. S. agents "have been caught red-handed inside the Soviet Union," but he gave no further details.

Ernest A. Gross, the American delegate, said his country would not oppose inclusion of the item since the Americans "never feared exposing the false charges brought by the agents of the Soviet group."

Other explosive issues the Steering Committee approved for debate were:

1. A motion by Brazil—bitterly opposed by Russia—that the Assembly appeal to the four great powers to conclude an Austrian independence treaty. The 15-member committee voted down the Russian objection 12 to 2, with Pearson not voting.

2. Tunisian and Moroccan complaints against French colonial rule, introduced by the Asian-Arab bloc of nations in the U. N. France refused to recognize the Assembly's competence to discuss the two questions, claiming they were internal problems, and declared she would boycott the discussion.

3. Two touchy questions affecting South Africa—India's long-standing charge that Indian minorities are victims of discrimination in South Africa, and a complaint by the Asian-Arab group that South Africa is threatening international peace through her "apartheid" policy of racial segregation. G. P. Jooste of South Africa protested unsuccessfully against inclusion of the two items on the agenda, declaring U. N. discussion would constitute interference in his country's internal affairs.

No Need to Register Again Unless Moved

Persons who have previously registered for a general election in Sedalia and who have not moved will not need to register again, reminded Fred Handley, city clerk, today.

Many people have called him to ask because of the publicity given the registration system used in Jackson County and Kansas City, under which voters must register every four years.

Such is not the case in Sedalia, Handley said. A voter need never register again unless he moves to another ward or precinct.

Epidemic of Reform Sweepinng Progress But Many Pitfalls Still Blockig Arab World,

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of four dispatches in which Hal Lehrman, prize-winning newsman and authority on the Middle East, tells what's behind the new Middle East Build-Up — why the Pentagon has suddenly changed its policy and why there's hope of a new attitude in the Arab world.

By HAL LEHRMAN
Written for NEA Service

WASHINGTON — The epidemic of reform now racing over the unhappy Middle East can bolster regional stability and world peace.

But the reforms must be vastly enlarged and the giant obstacles to real, basic change overcome. Otherwise, expert observers warn, the reformers' "revolution" may be no more important for the area's miserable millions than a few grains of sand are for the endless desert.

Egypt and Iran are proclaiming agrarian and other startling reforms. In Lebanon, governments have been toppling because of popular clamor for change. Iraq is making big plans to spend newfound oil wealth on modernizing primitive society. Everywhere a drive seems under way to draw the medieval Middle East closer to the 20th Century.

But here are some of the pitfalls blocking the kind of progress needed to immunize the area against creeping communism: land-owning caste.

1. The widespread power of the tom and tradition.
2. The strangling grip of cus-
3. Government inefficiency.
4. Mass ignorance and fear.
5. Rampant disease.
6. Too much population, too little cultivable land.

In the Middle East, parliaments and potentates think nothing of making high-sounding decrees and then stopping dead. For at least three decades the regimes have been proclaiming eloquent programs for mass betterment. Yet in most of these countries the living standards are lower today than in 1914.

Nine out of 10 Iraqis are illiterate. The Egyptian peasant's average wage is $55 a year. One of every four Egyptian babies dies in its first year; two of every five grown-up Egyptians have hookworm.

Last Winter, Lebanon dictator Adib Shishakli announced swift distribution of all government-owned acreage. But instead of distribution, he has since fired the man who persuaded him to make the announcement.

In Iran, Premier Mohammed Mossadegh's widely advertised land reform merely reforms land rent—by reducing the landlord's take of his tenants' crops from 80 per cent to 60 per cent.

True, Shah Mohammed Riza Pahlevi is dividing up his own royal estates among the people. But this involves less than 2,200 out of 41,000 villages. Of the remainder, nearly 38,000 villages are virtually owned by the nobility — whose grip is unshaken by the Mossadegh decree.

In fact the Mullah Kashani, Mossadegh's reactionary religious chief, has frankly applauded Mossadegh's program as a sop to quiet the people and avoid the genuine land distribution which is the Communists' propaganda ace with the soil-starved peasantry.

CARRYING THE KNOW-HOW to the peasantry, like this Iraqi farmer still using medieval methods, is part of our Point Four program that is helping our Middle East Build-Up.

This is certainly revolutionary—on paper. King Farouk's numerous relatives — the royal princes plus a regiment of pashas and beys—own two-fifths of Egypt's land, though they're only one-half of one per cent of the proprietors. Two million ordinary Ahmed Mohammeds—the John Does of the Nile—have grubbed along for centuries on less than one acre each.

Moreover, much of Egypt's arable land is tied up in untouchable religious law which forbids land held by a member of one sect to go to another; ordians exactly how estates shall be divided among sons, daughters, widows, and makes the religious courts supreme over inheritances.

Fundamental reforms need competent administrators. Except for Turkey and Israel—which are centuries ahead in every other respect, too—Middle East civil services are pitifully corrupt and untrained.

Arab political resentments, suspicion and plain lethargy have impeded U. S. and United Nations efforts to start the necessary irrigation and reclamation projects—especially in Syria, Jordan and Iraq, where three quarter of a million homeless Palestine refugees are a breeding ground of riot and disease.

But our Point Four program is on the right track, experts concur. Bright spot in Iran is Mossadegh's good cooperation with our technicians. These are starting a Land Bank with low credit for farmers (who used to pay up to 30 per cent interest), and are directing the instruction of the rural teachers who will carry know-how to the peasantry.

The Soviets appreciate the threat of such activities to their own cause: Iranian Reds now denounce U. S.-organized poultry centers as military and espionage bases.

Despite the staggering difficulties ahead, there seems reason to believe a way to solve them will be found.

For one thing, the democratic world is growing increasingly concerned, and is searching for means to help. For another, contact with Western tools, techniques and accomplishments has begun to make even the natives aware that their distitution is not necessarily the will of Allah.

(Tomorrow: Reds in the Middle east.)

Missing Baby Girl Found With Woman Whose Baby Is Ill

NEW YORK (AP)—A stolen week-old girl was found yesterday with a woman whose own new-born baby lies sick in a hospital.

The baby, Gloria Hernandez, was taken from Bellevue Hospital Sunday by a woman who asked for it by name. The attendant, presuming she was its mother, Mrs. Rafael Hernandez, gave it to her.

The alleged abduction was discovered 24 hours later when Gloria's real mother asked for her baby.

Police check of all new mothers recently in Bellevue led to the apartment of Mrs. Carmen Rodriguez, 32. There, police said, they found Gloria — apparently unharmed.

Mrs. Rodriguez' baby girl was born Sept. 28, suffering from congenital adhesions of the intestines. The child is in an incubator at Bellevue, being fed intravenously.

Booked on a kidnaping charge, Mrs. Rodriguez told police she had applied for home relief and was informed she lacked certain papers and evidence that she had a baby to support.

Job's Daughters, Bethel 15, Honor Fathers With Banquet

Bethel 15, International Order of Job's Daughters, held its annual father and daughter banquet at the Masonic Temple.

As the guests entered the dining room, which was attractive with arrangements of flowers, Willis Ann Rosenthal, musician of Bethel, played appropriate music. The invocation was given by Mrs. Jerry Brown, guardian of the Bethel.

A welcome was given to all dads present by Donna Lynn Richardson, honored queen.

"Mom" Brown was presented a corsage by Donna Lynn after which "Dad" Morgan was presented a gift from the officers by Nancy Vaughan, senior princess.

Barbara Mabry entertained with a piano solo, "Nola", and Joy Cunningham gave a tribute to all dads by giving a poem written by Edgar A. Guest entitled "Dad".

Ed Hartig, associate supreme guardian of the International Order of Job's Daughters of the United States, Australia and Canada was introduced. Nancy Vaughan sang "For You" and Joy Cunningham presented him with a gift from the Bethel.

A quartet composed of Bernice Bacon, Barbara Black, Charlene Cooper and Dolanna Mabry sang "America, the Beautiful". Group singing was led by Pat Korando.

After the banquet initiation was held for the following girls: Arleen Hanning, Barbara Watson, Betty Ann Stephens, Ardia Faye Walter, Mary Lea Kahrs, Rita Napier, Glenna Sue Stewart and Delores Light.

The past honored queens present were Mrs. Raymond Kahrs, Mrs. Bob Leavitt and Miss Carolyn Morgan.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hartig, Kansas City, Kan., Mr. and Mrs. Bob Leavitt, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fulton, and Mrs. Ella Simmons, all of Kansas City, Mo.

The dinner was served by Pettis Chapter, 279, O. E. S. in accordance with the wishes of the worthy grand matron of the Order of the Eastern Star of Missouri.

DiSalle Tries To Put Bricker Back on Shelf

COLUMBUS, O. (AP) — An outspoken foe of the Truman administration and a man who once held a key job in it are waging a spirited battle for the post of United States senator from Ohio in the Nov. 4 election.

Standing for re-election is Republican John W. Bricker, three-time governor of Ohio and GOP vice presidential nominee in 1944.

Seeking to unseat him is Michael V. DiSalle of Toledo, former federal price administrator.

Their campaigns provide Ohioans with a sharply etched election battle against a backdrop of national significance.

DiSalle, former mayor of Toledo, says the major campaign issue is "world responsibility versus isolationism."

Bricker pitches his bid for re-election on an attack against the New and Fair Deal programs. He says only the election of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as president will bring a change. And, he says the general must be given a Republican Congress with which to work.

Bricker, an ardent campaigner, blames the administration for inflation and the Korean War, demands an end to government corruption and a curb on the treaty-making powers of the President and Senate.

The junior Ohio senator, whose May 6 primary vote topped all other candidates, has been one of Ohio's best vote-getters in previous elections.

But DiSalle claims Bricker's popularity has waned and that his Senate record isn't all it should be to win re-election.

DiSalle hammers away at Bricker's votes against Hoover Commission recommendations, the St. Lawrence seaway project and the Point Four program, among others.

DiSalle complains Bricker is spending large sums on his campaign. He took note of reports real estate and railroad lobbies have pledged financial aid to Bricker, and he asked the Senate Elections Expenditures Committee to keep an eye on the Ohio race.

Bricker has ignored a DiSalle proposal to set up a joint citizens committee to check on both their expenditures in a mutual effort to avoid "lavish spending."

DiSalle, in a half-page newspaper advertisement costing $819, called last August for contributions to a proposed personal campaign budget of $165,000. The published budget, a political innovation in Ohio, listed $40,000 for TV and radio time; $50,000 to mail one million pieces of literature, $30,000 to have it printed and $15,000 for newspaper advertising. The rest covered salaries of campaign workers and miscellaneous items.

Bricker hasn't estimated the cost of his campaign but Republican state headquarters indicated the cost would exceed DiSalle's proposed budget.

DiSalle is counting heavily on a series of radio-television marathon talk programs to win votes.

Both Bricker and DiSalle are lawyers.

Bricker began his career in Ohio politics in 1923 as city attorney of Grandview Heights, Columbus suburb, but quit after four years to resume law practice.

In 1929, he became a member of the State Utilities Commission and later served two terms as Ohio attorney general. He was elected governor in 1938, 1940 and 1942 by top-heavy majorities. After the 1944 defeat of the Thomas E. Dewey-Bricker national ticket, Bricker practiced law until his election to the Senate in 1946.

DiSalle, at 44, is 15 years younger than his opponent. He came to Ohio from New York at an early age. After practicing law in Toledo, he became counsel for the Home Owners Loan Corp. in 1933. Later he served as a member of the Ohio Legislature, and as assistant Toledo law director, five terms as Toledo councilman and vice mayor and mayor of that city.

In 1950, he took the job of price controller, quitting more than a year later to run for senator with President Truman's blessings.

Bricker has leveled his heaviest guns on Truman and Adlai Stevenson, Democratic presidential nominee, rather than DiSalle. Typical of his comments during the campaign speeches are these:

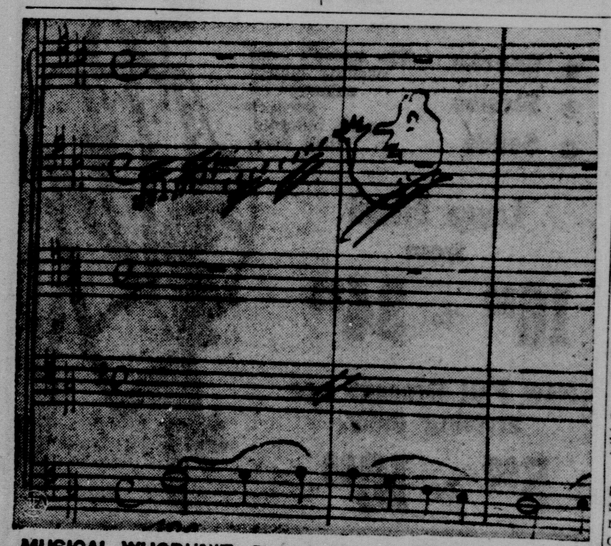
"Stevenson has displayed a dangerous inability to see the evil in communism."

"Truman and (Secretary of State) Acheson have too long ignored the demand of Chinese Nationalists and South Koreans for a chance to help wind up the Korean War."

DiSalle takes the line that Bricker is "out of tune" with the times. He has said:

"The record of my opponent shows that when inflation threatened he was usually fighting needed controls and when communism threatened world freedom, he was opposing Greek-Turkish aid, attempting to weaken the Marshall Plan, and voting to cripple the North Atlantic Security Treaty provisions."

THIS TIME THE SINK GOES, TOO—Bombers from the Carrier Princeton, stationed in Korean waters, have been pasting North Korean targets with everything but the kitchen sink, and Navy Lt. Carl B. Austin, of Woodburn, Ore., thinks it's about time the Communists are given the full treatment. Lieutenant Austin is shown aboard the carrier, as he readies 1000 pounds of "drain cleaner" for Pyongyang, North Korea's capital city.



MUSICAL WHODUNIT—Students of music who have been examining the precious manuscript of Beethoven's Ninth Symphony, which is on display in New York, are intrigued by the little sketch, above, which appears on the score. Corrections, and an inscription in Beethoven's own hand appear on the manuscript, which the great composer dedicated to the Royal Philharmonic Society in London, for whom he composed the work in 1824. However, it is not known whether Beethoven, his copyist, or some 19th Century wag with be-bop tendencies made the sketch. Officials of the British Museum believe that the drawing is at least a century old.

Peeping Toms Get Curtained from Peeks

ANDOVER, Massachusetts (AP)—A legal curtain came down today on peeping Toms.

The attorney general's office yesterday approved an Andover by-law, passed by the last town meeting, reading:

"No person except an officer of the law in the performance of his duties shall enter upon the premises of another with the intention of peeping into the windows of a house or spying upon in any manner any person or persons therein."

I. R. Bureau Has Itself Half Changed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Bureau of Internal Revenue has itself about half reorganized.

Five new revenue districts have been set up since last May and are now operating in 13 states. Secretary of the Treasury Snyder has announced dates in the next 10 days when three more districts, with 12 more states, will be put into operation.

Additionally, it was learned today that announcements are soon to come on two more districts, to contain at least four states. It was also learned that changes are probable in the already-operating New York City and Chicago districts.

That makes 25 states functioning or soon to be functioning under the plan accepted last spring by Congress to take the scandal-buffeted tax bureau out of politics and break down its heavily centralized structure.

It brings all of the Northeast and most of the Atlantic Coast and Great Lakes region under reorganization. Yet to be reorganized are the West and most of the Midwest.

The revenue bureau has promised to complete the reorganization by Dec. 1.

An informed source said today the next new tax districts to be announced will have headquarters at Philadelphia and Seattle. Philadelphia will supervise federal tax matters in New Jersey, Delaware and Pennsylvania, the source said. It was not known whether Seattle will take in more than the state of Washington.

Here is the revamped federal tax collection service now halfformed:

1. The presidential plan accepted by Congress provided for dividing the nation into as many as 25 tax districts, each headed by a commissioner. The revenue bureau, according to the best information available, has decided on 16 districts.

The district commissioner will have broad decision-making powers in his area. Theoretically at least, few administrative decisions will be left to Washington and national headquarters will devote itself to overseeing and policy-making.

The district commissioner, chosen under civil service as a career man, will be the highest-ranking field officer of the bureau.

2. The 64 directors will deal with their district commissioners instead of with Washington. Whereas the collectors were appointed by the President, with the advice and consent of the Senate, directors will be civil service employes. Under the old system, internal revenue agents, special agents, alcohol and tobacco tax investigators and inspectors usually were independent of the collector, often reporting direct to Washington. They will now all come under the directors' supervision.

The Salvation Army, established in the United States in 1880, has approximately 1,380 crops and outposts and more than 5,000 officers.

In Connecticut Good Friday is usually proclaimed by the governor as a day of fasting and prayer.

98,000 New Dwellings Started In September

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) reported today that 98,000 new, non-farm dwelling units were started in September.

So far this year, BLS said, a total of 866,800 new dwelling units have been put under construction. A 19,300-unit increase in private housing this year over last, it said, was all but offset by an 18,500-unit decrease in public housing.

Public housing started last month —900 units—dropped to the lowest level in more than a year.

This will be the seventh consecutive year in which housing starts were at or near the 100,000 mark.

Remove Bodies of 14 Killed In Brazil Crash

PORTO ALEGRE, Brazil (AP) — Rescue workers today were moving out the bodies of 14 persons killed in the flaming crash of a Brazilian airliner. Four survivors were being treated in hospitals.

The DC3, operated by Aerovias Brasil, crashed Tuesday in a dense wood on a farm near Sao Francisco de Paula, about 54 miles northeast of here. Search planes located the wreck yesterday and rescue parties, struggling through heavy mud reached the site a few hours later.

To Feed the Voters

HOPEWELL, Va. (AP) — Voting may be a sticky business here on Nov. 4.

The City Council has authorized a sorority to sell coffee and doughnuts at the five voting precincts. Proceeds will go toward buying a new X-ray unit for the city health department.

French Commie Editor Harms Army's Morale

LYON, France (AP) — A French Criminal District Court has convicted a Communist editor of harming the morale of the French Army and fined him 20,000 francs.

The editor, Georges Levy, was convicted yesterday of having published false statements about the French Army in his weekly newspaper, La Voix du Peuple.

Nixon Blasts Infiltration Of Reds In UN

MUSKEGON, Mich. (AP)—Announcing himself pleased with good crowds and enthusiasm during his Michigan swing, Sen. Richard Nixon left the state today after blaming the Democratic administration for letting U. S. Reds infiltrate the United Nations.

The Republican vice presidential candidate whipped a 2,200 overflow crowd into wild cheers in the Central High School auditorium here last night.

"The blame lies squarely on the Democratic administration," he said, "for the discovery by the O'Connor committee that there were 30 American members of the U. N. Secretariat who refused to answer when asked if they were Communists."

"It is bad enough to have dedicated Communists representing Russia and the Iron Curtain countries on the U. N. staff," he said, "without also having American Communists on the U. N. staff."

The least the State Department could have done, he said, was set up a procedure to inform the U. N. of those who had been fired from United States jobs for loyalty or security reasons.

Muskegon, normally a Democratic community, turned out more than 3,000 to welcome Nixon when his train pulled into the station.

In his evening speech, Nixon hit hard on his theme that Gov. Adlai Stevenson showed poor judgment in testifying for the character of Alger Hiss.

"We've got to have a man who cannot be fooled by the Communists—and that man is Eisenhower," he said.

Interviewed just before his train left the state for Logansport, Ind., Nixon said he was greatly pleased by his reception in Michigan.

"The crowds and their evident enthusiasm," he said, "convinces me that Michigan will go Republican on Nov. 4."

It was estimated that Nixon spoke to a total of 74,000 including more than 5,000 in Detroit, during his two-day, 16-stop visit.

Traveling from Detroit, Nixon stopped at five Southern Michigan cities for train platform speeches.

He continued to drive home his conviction that the Democratic administration's inept handling of communism was the cause of all America's ills.

To mostly enthusiastic audiences, the GOP candidate called for better leadership by the election of Eisenhower and the election of a Republican "team" in ashington and at the state level.

Missouri Politics—

Symington Says Kem 'Triple Talks' On Foreign Affairs

By The Associated Press

Stuart Symington of St. Louis, Democratic candidate for the U. S. Senate, says his Republican opponent, Sen. James P. Kem, has been indulging in "triple talk" on foreign affairs.

Kem, meanwhile, talked on labor issues and told an audience at Wentzville last night election of Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson and a "Trumanite Congress" would mean repeal of the Taft-Hartley act.

Symington spoke at a rally in Warrensburg last night. He said Kem had assured the voters before his election to the Senate in 1946 that he would support a continuation of bi-partisan foreign politics.

But throughout his term, the St. Louis industrialist and former Reconstruction Finance Corporation head declared, Kem "consistently opposed every phase of the program in Washington."

And lately, said Symington, Kem says he agrees with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the GOP presidential nominee, on foreign policy — except in degree. That's "triple talk," Symington remarked.

Kem accused Stevenson, the Democratic candidate for the White House, of having knuckled under to big union boss dictation.

And Symington, the senator contended, "has undoubtedly as a price for CIO-PAC and ADA (Americans for Democratic Action) endorsement promised to support the Trumanite program in full."

In the gubernatorial campaign, Howard Elliott, the GOP nominee, told a gathering at Jackson last night he would, if elected, recommend an adequate health program for the entire state. He noted that some Missouri counties are "without even one doctor, and in some places the sick must travel more than 50 miles" for medical aid.

He proposed the establishment of hospitals in rural Missouri, and also a plan for state aid to medical students at the University of Missouri on condition they agree to locate in rural areas for a definite number of years after graduation.

Five Pettis 4-H'ers To Royal Conference

Five Pettis County 4-H members will attend the 4-H American Royal Conference beginning Sunday, Oct. 19. Selected from Pettis County were: Ida Mae Bahner, foods preparation delegate, (Striped College 4-H); Mary Jo Moriarty (Striped College 4-H; Gace Schneider (South Abell 4-H); Dale Norfleet (prairie Ridge 4-H); and J. D. Gregory (Prairie Ridge 4-H). The last four are delegates-at-large.

These boys and girls were selected by the Farm Bureau Youth Committee upon the basis of their standard repart forms and 4-H records. Twenty-one members submitted forms as entries in the contest.

Hhe 4-H American Royal is an event, claims Jim Perry. While at this conference, 4-H boys and girls from over the midwest become acquainted with 4-H members from other states at mixers, parties and other events. Educational tours of the city and specialized conferences will be held.

The 1952 conference will close with a banquet on Tuesday night, Oct. 21.

Spain and Britain Trading Materials

LONDON (AP)—Spain will soon get 500,000 pounds (1,400,000) worth of piston-type aircraft engines from Britain in return for pyrites and other needed strategic metals.

Foreign UnderSecretary Anthony Nutting told the House of Commonslast night Spain also will get radio-direction finders for airfields and out-dated radar and radio equipment as part of Britain's arms-for-export policy.

"All this is obsolescent material," Ntting said, "which could be used for civil and military purposes, but for which there is no demand from any friendly or netral country."

Standardization Cuts Airplane Costs

NEW YORK (AP) — Standardiation of service specifications for the aircraft industry has resulted in savings of millions of dollars for the taxpayer, says the Aircraft Industries Association.

During the past four years, 251 designs have standardied 19,410 hardware parts for aircraft engines and propellers alone. A typical saving, the association says, is that of an engine bolt and nut which cost $2.63 before standardiation. Now it costs $1.

The association says power-plant makers with service contracts will use 78 million fewer kinds of parts this year than formerly.

Bevan Invites Attlee To Join His Faction

LONDON (AP) — Aneurin Bevan, stormy leader of the left-wing faction that threatens to split Britain's Labor party, today invied pary leader Clement Attlee and his righ-wing moderates to "come and oin us."

Disciples of the 54-year-old former health minister recently shook the Labor party's annual conference by grabbing six out of seven seats on the 27-member Executive Committee allotted to local Labor parties.

Attlee and his supporters had indignantly accused the Bevanits of starting a "party within the party."

Bevan hotly denied the charge and issued the "come and oin us" invitation today in Tribune, weekly magazine edited by his wife, Jennie Lee.

Homer Tittle

One of the frequent causes of electric line failures involves tree branches. The branches rub against the lines presenting a fire hazard and causing a short-circuit. The Missouri Public Service Company employs tree-trimming crews to help remove such fire hazards and prevent line failures.

Heading up one of the crews is Homer Tittle, who operates out of Lee's Summit. Homer sometimes has to persuade customers of the worth of his efforts. A few customers classify Homer and his men with locusts or bag worms. They don't like to see their favorite tree rid of some of its branches.

Homer is an expert in his field, however. And his companions are professional tree doctors. If Homer calls on you one day, think first of your own inconvenience from a needless electric failure and Homer's desire to remove a fire hazard.

These, and other activities performed by the men and women of the Missouri Public Service Company, are all parts of the whole job in ascertaining that you will have dependable electric power where you want it and when you want it.

Adlai Lashes Ike Crusade With New Fire

WITH STEVENSON IN CALIFORNIA (AP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson's campaign showed signs of catching fire today as he lashed out with fresh vigor against Dwight D. Eisenhower's "crusade."

Flushed with the enthusiasm of his biggest and noisiest campaign meeting—in San Francisco last night—the Democratic presidential nominee accused Eisenhower of attempting to ride two political horses in California.

Scoffing at what Eisenhower calls his "crusade," Stevenson said his Republican opponent had felt it necessary to take different positions in different states. The Illinois governor declared in a speech prepared for delivery from the Capitol steps in Sacramento:

"Here in California he has tried the delicate job of being both a Warren Republican and a Nixon Republican."

Stevenson repeated a virtual endorsement of Republican Gov. Earl Warren—an endorsement that won applause from a Democratic audience which bulged San Francisco's Cow Palace.

The same audience, the most responsive he has had in his travels, booed lustily when he mentioned the name of Eisenhower's vice presidential running mate, Sen. Richard M. Nixon of California.

Stevenson said last night that Nixon had proposed an investigation of the "extravagant charges" made against Gen. George C. Marshall, Eisenhower's good friend, adding:

"As for Nixon, we would take his enthusiasm for investigation and disclosure more seriously if he would do a more complete job on himself."

This was an allusion to Nixon's explanation of an $18,000 fund raised by Californians to pay some of the senator's expenses.

Stevenson said in an address prepared for a University of California audience at Berkeley that intellectual freedom faces a threat from those who "crusade against communism in the hope thereby to smother all ideas and silence all dissent."

Nixon has contended he brought Alger Hiss to justice and has criticized Stevenson for giving Hiss a character reference.

"My opponent in this campaign has made his peace — on their terms—with men who fear the future and hate the present," the Democratic nominee declared. "What he still calls his crusade has been joined by men who stand only for a past that is dead and cannot be disinterred."

It was a wildly cheering reception that the estimated crowd of 23,000 gave Stevenson.

Stevenson heaped ridicule on what he said was the "team of isolationists and cut-throat reactionaries" he contended Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio was quarterbacking for Eisenhower.

"From my mail, from the growth of switch clubs, I have a hunch that it is indeed time for a change and independents, have decided that it is indeed time for a change —to the Democratic ticket," he said.

Mrs. Hendy To Retake Stand In Murder Case

EDWARDSVILLE, Ill. (AP)—Gray-haired Mrs. Eva Ruth Hendy, on trial for murder in the fatal shooting of her husband, is expected to return to the witness stand today after firmly denying she had told her brother-in-law to kill her husband.

The 50-year-old Alton woman testified for almost two and a half hours last night and termed as lies the testimony of her husband's brother, Dan Hendy, 59.

Dan Hendy, awaiting sentencing on his plea of guilty to a murder charge, testified that it was Mrs. Hendy who arranged the slaying after Patrick Hendy, 48, had refused to grant her a divorce so she and Dan could marry.

Dan Hendy told the court he shot his brother through a basement window of Patrick Hendy's home last April after Mrs. Hendy had told him "tonight's got to be the night" in a telephone conversation.

Mrs. Hendy admitted that she once was in love with Dan Hendy, and frequently "hugged and kissed him" when they met at her home after her husband had left for work.

"I guess it was because I fell in love with Dan," Mrs. Hendy said. "I felt sorry for him. I know different now."

Wednesday's late session was the second night session of the trial which today enters its 10th day.

Many times the court had to order Mrs. Hendy to speak louder as the packed courtroom failed to hear her testimony.

Only once did she outwardly show emotion. That was when she told of finding her husband's body.

She said it was Dan Hendy who suggested they "get rid of" her husband when he refused a divorce. Mrs. Hendy told the court she had replied:

"Oh, Dan! That sounds terrible. That's an awful remark!"

Mrs. Hendy admitted telephoning her brother-in-law on the night of the shooting, but explained it was only to see if he had called her while she was out of the house. Her husband was gone at the time, she said, and Dan Hendy became angry when she told him he couldn't come over to see her.

Jaycees' Ladies Night Has TWA Hostess to Speak

The third annual Jaycee ladies night banquet will be held at the Ambassador Room of the Hotel Bothwell at 7 p. m. tonight. This is the one special program prepared each fall exclusively with the ladies in mind. Special awards and favors will be given to the ladies present and, according to Bert O. Hathaway, master of ceremonies, the entire program is designed for their pleasure and entertainment.

The Jaycees feel fortunate in obtaining Miss Marilyn Markham of Trans-World Airlines hostess training staff, as the featured speaker of the evening. Miss Markham is a native of Pittsburg, Kan., and prior to her association with TWA, received a bachelor of science degree from the journalism school of Kansas State University.

She is at present directly attached to the office of Miss Margaret Jones, superintendent of hostesses in the central region.

Also at this evening's meeting, Jim Green, president of the local Junior Chamber of Commerce, will have two very important words to say to all members and wives present. He stated today that he wishes that every person in Pettis County could hear these two words often enough to do something about them. They are simply: REGISTER! VOTE!

Farm Yields Sand, Was Once a River

NEW MEMPHIS, Ill. (AP) — The farm of Louis Knab is yielding 2,000 to 4,000 tons of sand daily for construction of new runways at Scott Air Force Base, 15 miles to the northwest.

A fleet of 60 trucks operating on a shuttle schedule has hauled an estimated 200,000 tons from the huge "sand mine" since July 1.

The sand deposit, one of the largest in the Midwest, lies about four feet beneath the surface and averages 18 feet in depth covering about 17 acres of the farm, a mile south of here.

Discovered eight years ago by highway engineers, the deposit first was tapped last summer. The sand apparently once was the bed of the nearby Kaskaskia River.

Mrs. Gooch a Solicitor

Mrs. Cleo Gooch a member of the North Side Committee of Community Chest Drive. Mrs. Gooch will solicit on Osage.

Boy Scouts' Get-Out-Vote Drive Planned

Members of the Pettis District, Boy Scouts of America, met Wednesday night at the Evangelical and Reformed Church for the regular monthly committee meeting.

Two items of major importance outlined were: (1) the "Get Out the Vote" campaign as outlined by Oscar DeWolf, and 2) the annual district meeting.

The program outlined by Mr. DeWolf included plans for distribution on door-knob hangers throughout the city before election day to encourage citizens to vote. Several other projects on this activity were planned and will be announced later.

Abe Silverman, district chairman, announced the coming annual meeting for the district. It will be held at the Smith-Cotton cafeteria on Monday evening, Nov. 10, at 6 p.m. It will be a "pot-luck" dinner as in the past.

Mr. Silverman said that Reinhold G. Miller, deputy regional scout executive, Kansas City, will be the guest speaker that evening.

Appointments were made of committee chairman for the meeting as follows: program, Cline Cain; nominating, William Hurlbut; and arrangements, Louis Heuerman.

Julius Stohr, camping and activities chairman, made available material for units to use for Scouts saving money for camp or other activities. He also provided applications to scoutmasters for the National Troop Camping Award.

Dr. Dave Robinson, advancement chairman, announced that a special board of review would be held on Wednesday, Nov. 3, in order for as many boys as possible to be recognized for advancement at the court of honor in connection with the annual meeting.

Dr. Robinson said the merit badge counselor list was to be revised, and any suggestions for changes or new men who might help would be appreciated. Dr. Robinson and Jim Langridge, field executive, will be in Kansas City next Sunday to observe the eagle court of honor presentation of the Kansas Cith Area Council.

Health and Safety material was provided leaders on blasting caps, the new artifical respiration, and a Scout safety quiz.

Coffee and donuts were served by the committeemen of Troop 57, sponsored by the Evangelical and Reformed Brotherhood.

Those present were: Harry Walch, the Rev. William C. Bessmer, H. Nathan Jones, Dale Hunter, M. A. Moser, Paul F. Hausam, Frank Lueck, Julius Stohr, Harry Naugel, Oscar DeWolf, Clyde Waggoner, Norman H. Bottcher, V. A. Siegel, Roy H. Williams, Arthur C. Bethke, Percy Crecelius, Charlie Hofheins, Fred W. Fisher Jr., H. L. Sutton, Dave Robinson, Claude Lambirth, Samuel H. Green, George H. Ricks, L. C. Heuerman, Abe Silverman and Jim Langridge.

Higher Interest Payments May Be Asked for Bonds

NEW YORK (AP)—Sweetened interest payments on U. S. savings bonds have helped — but not enough.

Sales are running ahead of last year. But the treasury is still redeeming more than it is selling.

Many bankers think that, to get the treasury off the hook, Congress will have to step in and vote still higher interest rates than can now be offered on E bonds.

Others say that many people don't realize—maybe havent' been told well enough—the advantages the new series have to offer, such as the chance of sizable savings in income tax payments if maturing bonds are held. They can be held for an additional 10 years, gathering interest all the while, but the tax need not be paid until they're redeemed.

The public, however, appears to be feeling more kindly toward U. S. savings bonds than it did when galloping inflation after Korea was cheapening the purchasing power of the dollar.

In the five months since the Treasury has been offering its new bonds with higher yields, sales are up 15 per cent over the same period last year. And redemptions are six per cent below the rate a year ago.

Still, the treasury had to shell out in redemptions from May through September 427 million dollars more than it took in through sales of new bonds. This includes 375 million dollars for bonds that matured but could have been held 10 more years before income taxes would have to be paid on the interest they earn each year.

As proponents of E bonds explain it, the tax lure is for those who:

1. Will be retiring in the not too distant future and thus will doubtless fall into a lower income tax bracket when they declare the accrued interest, than if they cashed the bonds now and paid tax in their present higher bracket.

2. Are optimistic enough to believe that income tax rates in general will fall when the defense program slackens.

3. Are convinced inflation has run its course and that ensuing deflation will mean that the future dollar will have higher purchasing power than dollars obtained today by selling bonds.

But many bankers doubt if any of these Treasury arguments will work. They contend that if the Treasury wants to sell more than it redeems, the interest rate will have to be raised from the present three per cent—perhaps to the 3½ per cent which Canada will start paying Nov. 1 on its savings bonds.

Knaus' Grandson Gets American Farmer, FFA Degree

George Sprinkle, Homestead, Fla., formerly of Knob Noster, was presented the American Farmer's Degree, top award of Future Farmers of America, at the National FFA Convention in Kansas City, Tuesday.

The award is made for outstanding achievement in agriculture. He is associated with his father, Virgil M. Sprinkle, in farming 400 acres of potatoes in Homestead. His mother is the former, Mary Knaus and is the daughter of John W. Knaus, north of Knob Noster.

30 at Columbia U. Come Out for Ike, 300 for Stevenson

NEW YORK (AP)— Thirty Columbia University faculty members issued a pro-Eisenhower statement yesterday and 300 pro-Stevenson adherents at Columbia countered with a full-page newspaper advertisement.

The GOP ticket is headed by Dwight D. Eisenhower, on leave without pay as president of Columbia.

Mrs. Ryan A Visitor

Mrs. Bobby Ryan, the former Bettye Ellsworth, has returned to her home in Urbana, Ill., after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emery Ellsworth, 656 East Broadway. Her husband, Staff Sgt. Ryan, who is in the Air Corps is stationed at Urbana, where he is in school.

Max Schwabe Is Speaker At Smithton

Max Schwabe, Republican candidate for Congress spoke to a large crowd Wednesday night at the Smithton High School, where a Republican community meeting was held under the auspices of the Pettis County Republican Committee. Mr. Schwabe said that "Government threatens to overwhelm us, and the only possible result is a dictatorship and the loss of freedom for the individual."

As an example, former Congressman Schwabe referred to what he called the ballooning of White House expenditures and increase in staff members. He said the most the White House up-keep cost before President Roosevelt was $300,000 per year; under F. D. R. it rose to $558,000 per year with a staff of 47; under President Truman it costs $2,000,000 to maintain the White House with a staff numbering 295 persons. Also, Mr. Schwabe said, "I am worried about the infiltration of the men of Moscow into our schools, churches, farm organizations and labor groups."

Mr. Schwabe was at Yalta where, he says, "we lost the peace. There Mr. Roosevelt solemnly declared 'we have made no committments,' and at his right hand was Alger Hiss, a convicted perjurer, who swore he had not worked with Communists. At Yalta the way was paved for Stalin to take over about a dozen countries, islands in the Pacific that have made possible Russian expansion in that area, and now, Korea, where from 100 to 120 American casualties are listed daily."

The Republican community meeting opened with a concert given by the Smithton High School band under the direction of Miss Wilma Schanz, daughter of Harold Schanz, who was introduced by Supt. Paul McKee. Raymond Kahrs, Republican committeeman, introduced Carl G. Schrader, chairman of the Pettis County Republican Committee, who presented the Republican county candidates: for representative, Harvey D. Dow; public administrator, Charles Maggard; for sheriff, Archie Smith; for prosecuting attorney, Harold Bamburg, acting prosecutor, who spoke for Mike Bogutski, now in the Armed services; and Lawson Clingan, assessor, who introduced Clyde Swafford, candidate for that office.

Mr. Schrader then asked George Wilkerson to present his long time friend, former Congressman Max Schwabe, whose father was a physician for many years in Smithton and other parts of Pettis County.

The Smithton PTA, Mrs. Klein president, served refreshments. The arrangements for this meeting were made by Raymond Kahrs, Republican committeeman, and Mrs. Olen Monsees, vice-chairman of the Pettis County Republican committee and committeewoman for Smithton Township No. 1.

The next Republican community meeting will be held at Spring Fork tonight at the Donohoe store, with Robert L. Spurrier, attorney from Butler, as the principal speaker.

Senator Homer Ferguson, (R-Mich) will be featured at a Republican rally Friday at 8 p.m. in the circuit courtroom of the Courthouse. A musical program will be given by the Kroencke Band.

State Polled Shorthorn Sale And Show Here

The 10th annual Missouri Polled Shorthorn Show and Sale will be held at Sedalia on Monday, Oct. 27 Ninety-nine head of cattle, consisting of 38 bulls and 61 females will be represented.

Polled Shorthorns are increasing rapidly in popularity throughout the country. Missouri has long been a leader in the production of this livestock. Dan and Lewis Thieman, brothers of the Concordia - Higginsville neighborhood, have been in the Polled Shorthorn business continuously for almost one-half century. Missouri herds have frequently developed grand champions of this breed at leading shows throughout the country including the International in Chicago and recent National Congress Shows and Sales. In fact Missouri is now known as the "Polled Shorthorn Paradise State".

Polled Shorthorns, while exhibiting all the characteristics that made the shorthorn popular, produce naturally polled calves that completely eliminate the unpleasant and dangerous task of dehorning. For this reason these cattle are proving more and more popular and the number of herds in the state increase annually. Until this year one sale was held each year which was sponsored by the association and it was a fall sale. In 1952 for the first time a spring sale as well as a fall sale was sponsored. It is planned to make this a practice hereafter.

In accordance with the Missouri Department of Agriculture's plan for increasing the number of Purebred Livestock in the state, a show will be held in connection with the sale. The show will occur the morning of Oct. 27 at which time the cattle will be classified into excellent, superior, and good, by a well qualified, impartial, out of state judge. This show provides all prospective buyers an opportunity to make direct comparisons between animals in which they might be interested. It has the added advantage of permitting buyers to avail themselves of the appraisal of a breeder. Cattlemen in need of superior breeding stock of either sex will do well to attend this event since cattle will be present from the leading herds throughout this state. Complete catalog of the consignment can be had upon request by writing Rollo E. Singleton, Sale Manager, 108 Parkhill, Columbia, Missouri.

PRAYERFUL LULL IN CAMPAIGN—Deep in meditation, Gen. Dwight Eisenhower bows his head as the Rev. A. W. Syms, an Episcopal minister, conducts Sunday church services aboard the Eisenhower campaign train, en route to Livingston, Mont. Mrs. Eisenhower's maid, Rose Wood, is second from left.

Plane Safety Is Funk Topic For Lions Club

"Safety of the Airplane" was the subject Jack Funk used in his talk to the Sedalia Lions Club at their noonday meeting Wednesday at Hotel Bothwell.

Mr. Funk was introduced by A. W Haller, program chairman.

In his talk he gave a comparison of the safety of the private airplane against that of the privately owned and operated automobile. He explained the dangers of the that of the plane in the skies.

Mr. Funk also compared the licensing of an automobile operator against that of a pilot, telling how the pilot must undergo a physical examination not once, but yearly, besides knowing the many, many different operations of an airplane, traffic rules and regulations governed by the CAA. "There is a great difference in obtaining a pilot's license for flying to that of getting a license to operate an automobile," Mr. Funk said.

He explained the government maintains jurisdiction over all airplanes, which must undergo a strict inspection every year. "The slightly worn part of an airplane must be replaced before the plane is licensed to fly. "The plane failures, compared with human failures, are very small in the investigations made of plane accidents."

Mr. Funk is the owner and operator of the Funk Flying Service which has its own flying field near Dresden, known as the old Municipal Airport.

The Hallowe'en Party plans for "kids" (1 to 60,) an annual affair in Sedalia, were announced. The party will be held in the auditorium of the Smith-Cotton High School starting immediately following the parade.

Sam Highleyman, parade marshal, announced the parade will assemble at the library on West Third and start marching at 7 p. m. The parade route is east on Third to Ohio, thence south to Ninth, thence east on Ninth to the high school.

Prizes are to be awarded for the best costumes, decorated bicycles, and winners in the various Hallowe'en contests appropriate for that type of celebration.

President E. B. Smith presided.

Yugoslav National Admits Being Red Spy

MUNICH, Germany (AP) — Darko Circovic, 42-year-old Yugoslav national, has pleaded guilty to charges of spying for Russia. He was arraigned in a U. S. High Commission Court yesterday and will be tried Oct. 24.

Circovic said last month he handed over to a Russian in Munich the names of 16 Allied secret agents and also told him about American troop strength in Munich and gave him the plans of two barracks.

Train Ignores Signal

LONDON (AP)—A signalman says that one of the trains involved in last Wednesday's triple train crash at Harrow failed to obey his signal.

A. G. Armitage made the statement yesterday at the official inquiry into the tragedy. Meanwhile, the death of a 94-year-old woman from injuries received in the crash brought the death toll to 111.

Guglielmo Marconi was granted the basic British patent on wireless telegraphy in 1897.

In color television, the basic colors are red, green and blue rather than red, green and yellow.

Odds and Ends By News Staff

It was in Sunday school and the teacher of a class of small children was trying to get them to tell who the apostles were asked: "Who was Matthew?" The children did not know. Then she asked about Thomas and James. Nobody knew.

"Who was Peter?" she asked. "Doesn't anyone know who Peter was?"

Then a timid little voice piped up: "Teacher, I fink him were a wabbit."—H. L.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Herbert Hoover Acts Between MacArthur and Eisenhower

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1952, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON — Herbert Hoover, who lives in the Waldorf Tower not far from General MacArthur, has been trying to arrange a meeting between two famous generals, long political opponents — MacArthur and Eisenhower. The job has not been easy.

Feeling between the two men has not been cordial since MacArthur sent Eisenhower, then a lieutenant colonel, home from the Philippines shortly before Pearl Harbor. That turned out to be the biggest break in Ike's life, for it put him under Gen. George C. Marshall, who promptly promoted him up the ladder to be top commander in Europe.

Since the war, the two top generals of the European and Far Eastern theatres have continued cool. MacArthur worked with Taft forces to block Ike's nomination, even told a Lansing, Mich., audience May 15:

"It would be a tragic development, indeed, if this generation was forced to look to the rigidity of military dominance and discipline to redeem it from the tragic failure of a civilian administration."

Phoning Governor Fine of Pennsylvania, MacArthur even urged him to throw Pennsylvania's delegates against Eisenhower.

Equally peeved, Ike was credited with the famous wisecrack: "I studied dramatics under Mac for nine years."

Hoover Perseveres

Despite these obstacles, Ex-President Hoover has urged that Republican victory is more important than personal feelings. He's afraid the Christian Nationalist Party, which has nominated MacArthur, may draw enough votes away from Eisenhower in a few key states to defeat him. Hoover has been working through Chairman Summerfield of the Republican National Committee, and, as of today, Ike has agreed to meet with MacArthur.

He refuses, however, to call on him at the Waldorf Tower. He is not, he indicates, making a pilgrimage to worship at the shrine. He'll be delighted to talk to MacArthur, he says, but MacArthur will have to come to him.

Eisenhower has also vetoed the idea of having MacArthur issue a press communique after their talk. Ike didn't like the reaction from the Taft statement and doesn't want to let himself in for one from MacArthur. Friends say he read enough MacArthur communiques during the war.

Some of the people on the Eisenhower train are a little unhappy about the prospect of an Ike-Mac meeting. They fear the reaction will further alienate independent votes. However, if the details can be worked out, the two generals will definitely get together.

Truman's Future

Hollywood Producer Dore Schary and Abe Fineberg got aboard the Truman train the other day, were given a compartment in the President's car and began a game of gin rummy.

Between whistle-stop speeches, the President came in to chat.

"How are you doing?" he asked after one speech.

"I've got half of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer," replied Fineberg, referring to the movie company for which Schary works.

"Fine," replied the President. "Get the other half and we'll go into the movie business. I'm not doing anything after January 20."

Diplomatic Pouch

Russian reconnaissance planes have been spotted over the Japanese coast. This has the Pentagon more worried than any military report in months. . . .Thousands of Russian workmen are building a giant Soviet airbase on Ostrov Rudolph Island — only six hours flying time from our own airbase at Thule, Greenland. . . .The British now think they have found a surefire way to earn American dollars. A British textile designer has invented an unsinkable cloth, and the British are going to use it for unsinkable bathing suits to be exported to us. . . .Secretary of Defense Lovett has turned thumbs down on a fancy, snorkel-type jeep. (Costs too much—over $4,500 each). . . .The U. S. will try to get the other free nations to send more troops to Korea at the forthcoming U. N. meeting. There are more than forty anti-communist countries in the U. N., but only 17 have sent fighting troops. . . .After all the hullabaloo over the Navy robot plane, pictures just back from Korea show that the much-publicized pilotless plane actually missed its target — a railroad tunnel — by several hundred yards.

The mix-up in Paris over whether the United States was dictating internal policy to the French was a comedy of errors which almost turned into tragedy and which could have been avoided.

One reason for the mix-up was a diplomatic nicety — the difference between a written note and an oral statement.

Ambassador James Dunn was instructed to deliver a formal note explaining why we could not advance France $650,000,000 next year, also to give him an oral explanation of the more delicate matters such as French failure to fulfill NATO obligations. In diplomacy things can be expressed orally, with greater delicacy, and without offending national pride.

However, the American Embassy in Paris made the mistake of informing the French in advance of the nature of Ambassador Dunn's call on Premier Pinay.

So the French maneuvered to have Dunn deliver the statement not to Pinay, but to his secretary. They did this by trumping up a special cabinet meeting, to which Premier Pinay allegedly was called.

So when Ambassador Dunn began reading the oral statement containing the more delicate nature of his mission, the secretary asked for a copy so he could show it to the Premier. Dunn then made the mistake of leaving a copy of his oral statement. It was this statement which got the French aroused.

The incident helped solidify Pinay's position in France, where he is under fire from both Communists and De Gaullists for being too pro-American. On the other hand, it hurt French-American relations, so essential to the defense of Europe.

Mrs. Garsson Gets Divorce In Mexico

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mrs. Ruth Levy Garsson says she had obtained a Mexican mutual consent divorce from Murray Garsson, the manufacturer convicted in 1947 of bribery and conspiracy in connection with war contracts.

Mrs. Garsson announced last night the decree was issued Tuesday but she declined to say where. She formerly lived in New York City.

I SAW Clyde and Ginny at the entrance of the building; a tall man in a black hat was with them. I put the car in gear, turned and drove at a screaming pace away from the airport.

"Bill, that guy with Clyde is a specialist in pulmonary diseases, probably from Johns Hopkins," I explained. "Clyde has imported him to examine Ruth, so I think we'd better get there first."

"He sure won't examine Ruth," Bill said, and added after a moment's pause: "But I don't like that. Roy, why did you pick pneumonia? The crisis doesn't come for several days, and the Governor's schedule will be in a mess."

"I didn't have a Merck's Manual handy, Bill,' I said. "Now, look here, we've worked like dogs on this thing, and it looks like we have it straightened out at last. Don't come here and quibble."

"Don't take those corners so fast." He reached across Lucy to grab the door handle for support. "All right, maybe you have, but there are enough loose ends to worry me. If McDonald can prove the Governor left his campaign train to fly here and hush his old school teacher up, he doesn't have to know what the dirt was. He'll hint at that. He'll make it worse than he would if he had heard the story."

"He won't prove the Governor left the train," I said, with less certainty. "He's got Melvin Fisher checking on the hotels, but he won't find anything. Lucy, it's fortunate the Governor ruled out a hotel last night."

"How about cabin nine, Roy?" Lucy said.

"We'll have to keep our fingers crossed on that," I said.

"And how about Warburton Day tomorrow?" Bill said. "What have you done about that?"

"We called it off, Bill."

"The speech and all?"

"Yes, and, Bill, you'll have to knock a few days out of the Governor's schedule somewhere."

"Somewhere?" he cried. "Where?"

"That's for you to worry about," I said. "You worry about that, and let me worry about the rest."

"I'm not sure how well you worry, Roy," he said. "You haven't had my training."

"Oh, he worries," Lucy said slurringly. "About big moral questions mostly."

• • •

"LUCY, do you suppose we could change seats without wrecking the car?" Bill asked. "I don't like it here in the middle."

"So I kissed a blonde," I said. "That's what it's all about. A handsome blonde, too. Bill, did you see her?"

"Keep your eyes on the road," he said. "Yes, I saw her."

"The average man kisses 32,709 times in his lifetime," I said. "What's one kiss out of 32,709?"

"Where did you get those statistics?" Bill asked, with interest.

"I read it in the paper somewhere," I said, "or maybe it was the Kinsey Report. Anyhow, I kissed Lucy once, and to heck with the other 32,708. She's the girl for me and she knows it. I wouldn't trade her for 32,000 blondes."

"The odds are precisely 32,709 to 1 that you'll only kiss Lucy once," said Lucy.

"I'll take a piece of that," I said.

Bill Evers chuckled. "As a matter of fact, I'll take a piece of that myself."

"Besides, it has absolutely nothing to do with your kissing a blonde or anybody else," Lucy said. "You can distribute your lifetime allotment where you please. Our dispute concerned your attitude toward women."

"Not toward women," I said. "Toward you."

"Precisely," said Lucy. "Toward me."

"Roy," Bill warned, "you're doing 70."

"We want to get there ahead of Clyde, don't we?"

"Yes," Bill said, "but on wheels, not wings."

"The trouble with Lucy," I said, "is I haven't had a chance to tell the woman that I love her."

"If you stop the car, Roy," Bill said, "and let me drive, you can tell her."

"I won't give her that satisfaction," I said.

"Lucy, when a cautious man like Roy drives the way he's driving, it must be love," Bill said. "Take my word for it." He considered a moment. "But say, this is pretty unexpected. Last I saw of you two, relations were pretty formal. Roy, stop the car!"

I pressed my foot harder on the accelerator and the car rushed ahead; a sign with a wiggly arrow proclaimed a winding road.

"Roy, you hear me?" Bill shouted.

"What does Lucy say?" I kept my eyes on the road.

"Lucy says stop the car," said Bill.

"Heavens yes!" Lucy said at last. "Stop, Roy!"

I had the good sense to brake slowly, and brought the car to a stop at the side of the road on a curve. I got out and walked around behind it, and by the time I opened the door on the other side Bill had slid under the steering wheel and Lucy had moved over. She was smiling.

"Lucy," I said. "I'm not mad at you."

"I'm not mad at you, either."

"And, Lucy, I love you," I said.

"I love you, too," said Lucy.

• • •

BILL put the car in gear and started on. He sighed and said, "As I mentioned before, this is so sudden."

The car moved on into the night, and Lucy at last was in my arms. Bill watched the road and drove in silence at a farmer's Sunday pace. It was not until we entered Hydetown that he said, "Kids, I've been counting. You only have a few thousand left. Better save 'em." He tapped my shoulder. "Roy, you can postpone your trivial personal problems until later."

He drove in under the porte-cochere, and said, "Come on, you exhibitionists."

Call Austrian Election

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Austria's two government coalition parties have decided to call for new parliamentary elections next April 26.

The decision of the Conservative People's party and the left-of-center Social Democrats must be approved by Parliament, in which the coalition holds 144 of the 165 lower house seats.

The last elections were held in October, 1949. Observers expect the coalition to win a new majority in the voting.

British Buy Grain From Soviet Russia

LONDON (AP)—Dr. Charles Hill, parliamentary secretary to the Food Ministry, told the House of Commons today Britain has contracted to buy 200,000 tons of grain from Soviet Russia. He said the shipment was expected soon.

The World Today—

Hear No Talk of Soviet Trades

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — The word "trade" is about as unemotional as any in the language, which is why, perhaps, nothing much has been said about it in this presidential campaign although the campaign has been full of talk about dealing with Russia.

And trade with Russia, or rather the lack of it, is one of the major weapons in the cold war, as W. Averell Harriman, director of the Mutual Security Agency, pointed out in a report this week. His organization is successor to the old Marshall Plan.

The latter was created to give economic help to Europe which, had it remained flat and broke, might have been taken over by Russia without firing a shot.

It might seem that, since this country and its allies were in a cold war with Russia, and both sides were building up their armaments which might be used any day in a shooting war, all trade would cease between the West and Russia.

It might seem ridiculous that any country allied with the U. S. or receiving help from this country would at the same time be trading with Russia. But in his report Harriman said "cutting off trade entirely would harm our common defense effort more than it harms the potential aggressor."

He said other non-Communist countries receive from the Soviet bloc "commodities that are extremely valuable to their own defense efforts and economic stability on which their defense is based."

But while some kind of trade with Russia might be all right—trade in items that didn't help Russia's war machine—this country had the problem of being sure Russia didn't get war materials from other western sources.

So the U. S. had to work out arrangements with the countries getting American help to control shipments to Russia. To be doubly sure about it, Congress passed a law—called the Battle Act—making it mandatory for this country to shut off any aid to a country exporting war goods to Russia.

This same law also said American help to any country should be shut off—unless the president decided otherwise—if it exported to Russia materials of strategic value—like petroleum and certain kinds of transportation equipment—that could be used to produce war goods.

Harriman said that for several years the important free world nations "have refused without any exception the shipment to the Soviet bloc of arms, ammunition, implements of war, or atomic energy materials."

The Battle Act went into effect last January. Harriman's report was an explanation of how the act has been carried out. Between January and July he said there were only three cases of countries shipping forbidden goods to Russia.

One case involved equipment for exploring for oil; another, a grinding machine; and the third, a tanker. But they were in the group which permitted the president to use his own discretion about shutting off aid. For various reasons, which Harriman explained at length, the president decided not to shut off American aid to the three countries: The Netherlands, Italy, and Denmark.

But this country and its allies weren't able to draw up a list of items which shouldn't go to Russia and stop there. The list is under steady examination and revision to meet changing situations involving both the West and Russia.

And yesterday—as if telling this country they could get along fine in war production no matter what we did about controlling trade with them—the Russians said they could convert their peacetime industry to a war basis in a short time and turn out everything needed for their Army and Navy.

In his report Harriman made it clear this country didn't expect to stop Russia's war production—since it has most of the basic raw material it needs. But he said he did think export controls might slow it up. At least, the controls won't help it.

JAYNE'S P-W tablets KILL PIN-WORMS
(You may have them and not know it)

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms . . . ugly parasites that medical experts say infest one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do . . . and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge . . . the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

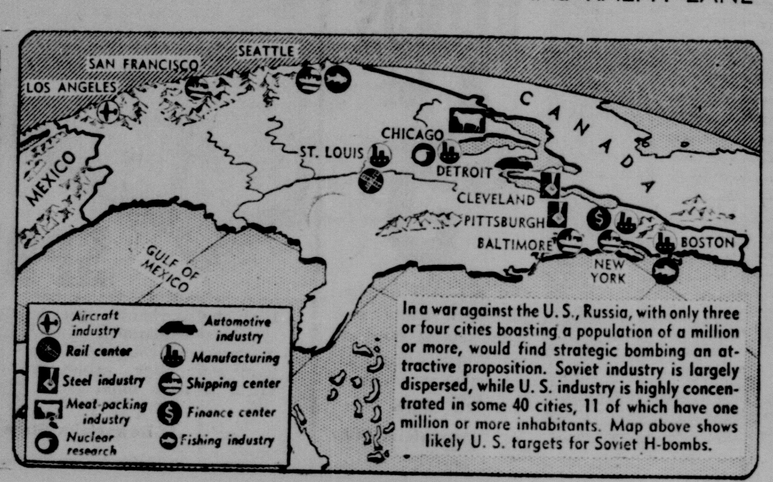
THE HELL BOMB

By JAY HEAVILIN and RALPH LANE



In a war against the U. S., Russia, with only three or four cities boasting a population of a million or more, would find strategic bombing an attractive proposition. Soviet industry is largely dispersed, while U. S. industry is highly concentrated in some 40 cities, 11 of which have one million or more inhabitants. Map above shows likely U. S. targets for Soviet H-bombs.

Aggies Hosts Homecoming To MU Tigers

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) —Missouri comes here Saturday to engage Oklahoma A. & M. in a homecoming football game, and the Aggies have a lot of reasons why they want the alumni to go home happy.

It's been four years since the Aggies have won a homecoming game,and Missouri has been just as tough for the Aggies.

In fact, this year's game ends a 4-year contract between the schools and the Aggies have yet to take the measure of Don Faurot's Tigers. In two other meetings of the schools in previous years, the Aggies also were beaten by Missouri.

And Aggie Coach J. B. Whitworth's charges aren't forgetting last year's clash with the Tigers at Columbia, Mo. It was in that game that Whitworth introduced his spread formation with quarterback Don Babers proving himself an effective passer.

He completed 22 tosses in that game, but the Aggies lost when Missouri scored a last minute touchdown 27-26.

It was after that game that Faurot started using a similar offensive formation with Quarterback Tony Scardino doing the pitching.

Babers missed last week's Wichita game, which the Aggies won 35-21, because of a lame shoulder. It won't be known until just before game time whether his pitching arm will be in shape for him to play.

The Aggies have a record of losses and one victory this season. They fell in their first three games to Arkansas 22-20, Texas A. — M. 14-7 and to Houston 10-7. Field goals beat the Aggies in the Arkansas and Houston games.

The meeting of the Aggies and Missouri, expected to draw 25,000 spectators, will pit against each other two former West Point teammates.

They are the Aggie's ace defensive fullback, Elmer Stout, who has made the middle of A. — M.'s line impregnable, and Missouri's Fill Rowekamp, who plays fullback on both offense and defense. They left West Point after the cribbing scandal in 1951.

Whitworth feels that this year's Aggie team is the best he's had in three years he has been here.

However, te lack of reserve power has hurt the Aggies greatly although Whitworth has some green sophomores he hopes to be able to use more as they pick up training.

The Aggies have received a big boost in the return to the lineup of Ronnie Bennett at fullback. He has been out with a bad leg but showed a lot of power in the Wichita game last week.

Browns Purchase Three Minor League Players

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Browns purchased three minor league players yesterday — a reserve catcher, a pitcher and an outfielder.

The catcher is 26-year-old Dan Baich, purchased from Oklahoma City of the Texas League. Melvin Held, right handed hurler, and Steve Molinari were acquired from Scranton of the Eastern League, a brown farm affiliate last season.

Salt put on sidewalks to melt snow usually damages the concrete, especially f the concrete is less than 6 years old.

The village of Hurley, N. Y., was the capital of the state for month in 1777.

Although it is a metropolitan district, London County Council, England, contains more than 1000 cows.

THIS IS THE END—Purdue sends glue-fingered Bernie Flowers, left, out to haul down passes. Steve Meilinger, center, is on the catching end of Kentucky's aerial attack. Darrow Hooper is a fixture in Texas A. and M.'s overhead offense. All are ends. (NEA)

Claassen Picks—Averages .786—

Sooners Over Jayhawks, MU Over Oklahoma's Aggies

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NE YORK (AP) — Once upon a time there was a little girl who always wore a red dress, coat and hat. She was known as Little Red Riding Hood. One Saturday afternoon she went into the woods to visit her grandmother—and missed all the football scores.

But she missed nothing. She had read these predictions and knew how all the games would come out. (Last week's record 44 correct, 12 incorrect for .786. The .786 also is the season's average.)

Michigan State over Syracuse: The Spartans, no matter which of his three teams Coach Biggie Munn plays, have been voted the nation's best. Syracuse, possibly the East's best, should make it interesting.

Maryland over Navy: Two unbeaten neighbors, and you know there is no brawl like a neighborhood brawl.

Oklahoma over Kansas: Primarily from habit. The Big Seven title rides on this one.

California over Santa Clara: California's great back is Johnny Olszewski, nicknamed Johnny O. After this game they will chant it "Oh Johnny!"

Georgia Tech over Auburn: Those Georgia Engineers are out to build a perfect season.

Duke over North Carolina State: Hardly more than a workout.

UCLA over Stanford: UCLA's defense, with Don Moomaw as the big man, has yielded only two touchdowns in the first four games.

Purdue over Notre Dame: Mr. Dale Samuels to fill the air with footballs.

Southern California over Oregon State: The Trojans appear to have power enough to slay the jinx which so often hampers California teams in the Northwest.

Pittsburgh over Army: Two surprise winners of last Saturday collide. The Cadets not deep enough to corral the Panthers.

Texas over Arkansas: The Longhorns to pull themselves together after the Oklahoma debacle.

Yale over Cornell: This is the TV game of the week and the Yale sophomores will take full advantage of it.

The others:

East: Holy Cross over Brown, Colgate over Harvard, Coast Guard over Amherst, Princeton over Lafayette, Penn State over Nebraska, Penn over Columbia, Quantico Marines over Fordham, Dartmouth over Rutgers, Trinity over Colby, Williams over Bowdoin, Rochester over Vermont, Boston University over William and Mary.

Midwest: Marquette over Arizona, Colorado over Iowa State, Detroit over Drake, Illinois over Minnesota, Michigan over Northwestern, Missouri over Oklahoma A & M, Wichita over Miami of Ohio, Indiana over Temple, Ohio State over Washington State, Wisconsin over Iowa, Tulsa over Kansas State.

South: Tennessee over Alabama, Florida over Vanderbilt, LSU over Georgia, George Washington over Virginia Tech, Mississippi State over Kentucky, Tulane over Mississippi, Virginia over Virginia Military, W. Virginia over Washington & Lee, Wake Forest over North Carolina.

Southwest: Baylor over Texas Tech, Southern Methodist over Rice, Texas Christian over Texas A & M.

Sportsmen Drop 1-Point Verdict To Stover Five

A missed setup on a 3-on-1 fast break before the final whistle blew cost the Sedalia Sportsmen a 47-46 decision on the Stover Independents in their opening basketball game of the 1952-53 campaign played Wednesday night at Horace Mann gymnasium.

The contest was close though out. Stover overcame a one-point deficit at halftime, built-up a one-point lead at the three-quarter mark, stretched it to five with with only two minutes remaining in the tilt and then barely staved-off the local club's final rally.

Case, a fine all-around performer for the victors, led both teams in scoring with 21 points, including seven free throws. Player-coach Dave Miller and player Jack Masters paced the balanced Sportsmen attack with 13 each, followed by Herb Williams and John Horter with seven apece and Marvin Schedler with six.

The Sportsmen's scoring machine was weakened by the loss of three players, including their starting center, Big Jim Jackson of LaMonte. A flat tire stranded the trio, and they arrived at the gym too late to participate.

Jackson, of course, is one of his area's better known pointmakers. He was the big noise on La Monte's PBCAA championship team of last year and received a great deal of publicity for his fine play in the Class-B high school tourney.

It Is Supported by Community Chest—

North Side Teen Town Provides Entertainment for Many Youths

Every Monday and Thursday night about 40 Negro teen-age youngsters flock to North Side Teen Town and enjoy the facilities placed there for them, thanks to the aid of the Community Chest and the work of Mrs. C. H. Gooch, who organized the recreation club four years ago.

Established to provide youngsters with wholesome, clean fun and to keep them off the streets, North Side Teen Town has gradually been improved and made more attractive. It is located in a privately owned building at 215 North Osage.

A snack bar has been installed, along with a ping-pong table and a pool table. A radio-phonograph combination provides dance music. Toilet facilities were installed at the board's expense.

Members of the board of directors are: J. B. Hylick, Hubbard school principal, president; Mrs. Carl Abbott, Mrs. Dorothy Kitchen, Mrs. Gooch and Mrs. Herman President. Mrs. President was elected the club sponsor Sept. 1 of this year, succeeding Mrs. Gooch.

The organization operates on a yearly budget of $500 to cover overhead, purchases of equipment and entertainment expenses. All holidays are celebrated with parties and already the group is preparing to decorate the building for Hallowe'en.

Budget money is provided by the Community Chest.

President of North Side Teen Town is Donnie Jones, member of the senior class at Hubbard. Membership is open to any child between 13 and the senior class age.

Illini Aerial Artist Named Back of Week

NEW YORK (AP)—Tommy O'Connell, a 22-year - old junior who sprays the air with footballs for the University of Illinois, today was voted the back of the week in The Associated Press' poll of sports writers and sportscasters.

O'Connell has been the main offensive weapon of the Rose Bowl champions, all season, but he really let go last Saturday against startled Washington when he tossed five touchdown passes within 20 minutes.

That gave him a total of 520 yards gained through the air on 32 completions in 54 tries and an average of .592. His aerials have gained almost twice as much yardage as the entire Illinois offensive has been able to muster on the ground.

Against Washington, which could do nothing more than hope he would miss his target—the Huskies couldn't get near the ball—he completed 14 of 17 throws for 262 yards as his team ran up an impressive 48 - 14 triumph after being upset by Wisconsin the previous week.

To make his performance even more amazing is the fact that he played a little more than 30 minutes, or just about half the game!

O'Connell's doings were not entirely unexpected since coach Ray Eliot has been banking on him to handle most of the offensive chores since the first day of practice. His running last year was handicapped by a bad knee, but it was operated on this spring.

At his current rate, Tommy will wind up ahead of his '51 passing average which was .502—62 completions in 120 throws. Two of those were game winning touchdowns against Washington and Michigan.

O'Connell, however, gave most of the credit to his teammates: "I would never have made it without the wonderful protection of our offensive line and backs," he said. "Hardly a Washington player touched me all afternoon."

Stengel Named Manager of Year For 2nd Season

NEW YORK (AP)—Charles Dillon Stengel has been honored for the miracle everybody figured he would pull off but weren't quite sure about by being named Manager of the Year for the second time.

The "Old Perfesser" was named on 37 of the 72 ballots cast by baseball writers in the Associated Press poll. The honor climaxed a season for the 61-year-old Glendale, Calif., seer in which he won his fourth straight pennant and world championship, tying a record held only by Joe McCarthy, another Yankee manager.

The runnerup position went to Eddie Stanky in his first year as a major league pilot. Eddie brought a fair to middlin' St. Louis Cardinal squad home third in the National League race.

As it was, Stanky just nosed out Jimmy Dykes of the Philadelphia Athletics, who surprised by parlaying Bobby Shantz and Ferris Fain into a fourth-place finish for his team. It was only the second time in 19 years that an American League Philadelphia entry has finished in the first division.

Another scrappy American League manager, Bucky Harris of Washington, received enough consideration to be tied for fifth place with Chuck Dressen of Brooklyn, who did commendably with a lukewarm pitching staff. Harris steered his team into fifth place after they had almost a unanimous choice for the cellar in preseason pickings.

The Giants' Leo Durocher, Manager of the Year in 1951, received five votes and fourth place for almost as good a job this year.

Defense Seems To Be Style For Grid Teams

NEW YORK (AP)—Defense seems to be the style in college football this year. Last week Ohio State upset Wisconsin and Penn snapped Princeton's 24 - game winning streak mainly as a result of their defensive efforts.

The National Collegiate Athletic bureau's statistics released today show that the big reason Southern California still is among the unbeaten of the country is its ability to stall opposition drives.

Coach Jesse Hill's Trojans have been all but stalled on the offense, but with two such smoothies as Vic Sears and Jim Psaltis leading the defensive array, they've maintained an unblemished record in four games.

Sears is the major-college punt-return leader with 335 yards in 16 returns, while Psaltis ranks second in pass interceptions behind Milt Davis, UCLA junior, with five grabs for 105 yards.

Six of the 15 touchdowns the Trojans have scored have come as a direct result of the defense. The unit also has caused UCLA opponents to fumble 17 times. They've recovered 10 of them.

Joe McClaran of Drake is No. 1 in pass receiving with 24, but Ed Woodsum of Yale has taken five throws for touchdowns to lead in that department.

Sam Baker of Oregon State heads the punting with an average of 45.7 yards per kick.

Other leaders include:

Larry Spencer of Wake Forest, kickoff returns, 264 yards.

Buddy Leake, Oklahoma, scoring, 46 points and conversions, 16.

Greatest Duck Population Due for Hunters

NEW YORK (AP) — The greatest duck population in 20 years is headed south from the canadian prairies and soon will be trying to outwit U. S. hunters.

Bert Cartwright, Ducks Unlimited naturalist and botanist now in Canada, estimates that the duck population in Canada is twice that of last year.

But he is quick to point out that the factors which produced this big duck crop may not be repeated for another 20 years and "that our conservation efforts must be continued."

Cartwright says the fair weather in May and June on the Canadian breeding grounds is one of the main reasons for the huge supply. Another is the abnormally large brood count. In some cases, he said, duck experts saw families with as many as eight young.

He reported that the mass migration of ducks started Wednesday and that a young blizzard, complete with high winds and falling temperatures, swept the prairie lands yesterday.

Vikings Take On Olathe Navy Saturday Night

The Missouri Valley Vikings, last year's kingpins in the MCAU conference, will play the Olathe "Clippers" at Marshall Saturday night before one of the biggest homecoming crowds ever anticipated.

The Viking squad is in top physical condition for this grid contest and the Clipper camp with its array of service talent has an impressive record to date.

Floyd Huggins, outstanding back for the Clippers, is a former Florida University player. He starred in the annual North-South game, scoring two touchdowns and was preparing to sign with the Cleveland Browns when he entered the service.

As for comparative scores the Clippers defeated Central Eagles 34 to 6 and the Vikings blanked them 33 to 0, which indicates that this game should be a close one.

Salas Loses Lightweights' World Crown

CHICAGO (AP)—Gritty Lauro Salas, who left a job as signalman on the Mexican National Railway to take up boxing, left a switch open last night and Jimmy Carter expressed through to regain the world's lightweight championship.

The 24-year-old youth from Monterrey and Los Angeles showed an instinctive gameness in standing up to Carter's sharp shots. But that was about all.

The peppery little New York Negro, displaying a terrific left hook as his main weapon, made it look as easy as taking candy from a baby.

After 15 rounds, blood flowed from vicious gashes on both of Salas' eyebrows, a split lower lip and a battered nose.

His five-month reign as his country's only undisputed champion in ring history ended as abruptly as it began last May, when he lifted Carter's crown in Los Angeles.

The nationally televised and broadcast scrap at Chicago Stadium attracted only 5,283 fans at ringside, one of the smallest championship crowds on record. Carter and Salas each received $6,428 as a share in a net gate of $21,429. But each also picked up nearly $10,000 from television receipts.

Carter's decision was overwhelming as he became the first lightweight to recapture the title since Lou Ambers did it against Henry Armstrong in 1939.

The official point-scoring showed Referee Frank Gilmer favoring Carter, 81-69, Judge James McManus, 82-68, and Judge Frank McAdams Jr., 84-66.

They awarded Salas the 11th and 12th rounds when the little Mexican rallied furiously and desperately to force Carter into the ropes several times.

But Carter was never hurt and not even severely jolted.

The best that could be said of Salas was his ability to weather Carter's smashes and keep a record intact of never having been knocked off his feet.

Carter weighed 135, Salas, 132.

Willie Ketchum, Carter's co-manager, said he may match the 28-year-old champion against the winner of the Phil Kim-Art Aragon scrap in Los Angeles. He said the bout, if arranged, would be in Los Angeles.

Salas said he was saddened by losing the title for Mexico.

"It was my worst fight in two years," he mumbled. "My punches were very bad. Carter was no better than when I beat him five months ago."

Carter said:

"I figured all along that Salas was going to fight like he did last time we met. So when he came after me in the last half-minute or so of each round I met him coming in. I more than held my own those times and it won for me."

Irish 'Football' Champions In America for Big Game

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—A group of large, florid young men who won the Gaelic football championship of Ireland last week for County Cork are in our midst, warming up to play a picked New York team under the lights Saturday night at the Polo Grounds.

Having surmounted some linguistic difficulties, we are in position, through the courtesy and patience of Michael Vincent O'Donoughue, president of the Gaelic Athletic Association of Ireland, to tell you a few things about Ireland's favorite game, including the fact that 65,000 persons sat and stood in a steady downpour to watch the title game at Dublin on Saturday.

There are 20 players on the Cork squad, but it is possible that only 15 of them will get into the game here. That is the number on a side, and no substitutions are permitted unless a player is knocked more or less cold and is judged to be in no condition to continue.

The game is played on a field 160 yards by 90, approximately one-third larger than ours. It is played in two 30-minute halves and action is continuous except for a 10-minute breather at the half.

The ball may be kicked or it may be handled. That is, a player may grab it and run as many as three steps—no more—before sending the sphere on its way, either by a kick or by punching it with his fist. If the player is smart, O'Donoghue added, he will get rid of the ball in a hurry, for as long as it is in his possession he is fair game for the opposition.

He cannot be tackled, but he can be shoulder-blocked with great violence. As the Gaelic player wouldn't think of wearing padding of any sort, being shoulder-blocked is no fun, the president indicated. It is the main reason they sometimes make up to eight or 10 substitutions to the game.

There is, of course, a goal at either end of the long field. The posts are 21 feet apart, but the cross bar is only eight feet from the ground. With a tough goalkeeper always in attendance, it is very difficult to get the ball through beneath the bar. That is known as a goal and is rewarded by three points. If the ball goes above the bar it is worth only a single point. After an hour of furious exertion, the average team can expect to have perhaps one goal and four or five points, O'Donoghue said. That's the way they call the score—not in total points.

K-State, Tulsa Both After Win Saturday

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Kansas State's Wildcats scrap with the Tulsa Golden Hurricanes Saturday night, and both teams are doubly anxious for a victory.

Kansas State has won only one game in four starts this fall, but has been improving each week.

The Hurricanes were disappointed with their 33 - 7 loss to Houston last weekend and the senior dominated team, with all hands in top condition, is ready to start clicking.

The Big Seven team also has an added incentive — it's played only four games with Tulsa in the past and has lost three and tied one.

Saturday's game will be played at Tulsa.

The Tulsans — with practically the same outfit which won nine of 11 games a year ago—haven't come up to expectations this fall. They've had one victory, a tie and a defeat.

K-State, after dropping a 13-7 opening game to Cincinnati—the team that tied Tulsa, 14-14, came back to beat Bradley, 21-7. Then came a 26-0 loss to Missouri and a 27-14 defeat by Nebraska.

The Wildcats took a battering from Nebraska and coach Bill Meek says he expects at least four regulars to be missing from his lineup.

But Tulsa scouts have warned the Hurricanes that despite the visitors lack of reserve strength, K-State boasts some of the best individual talent in the Big Seven, particularly Veryl Switzer.

The Negro halfback is a 60-minute player and the scouts report "He covers his position like a circus tent and is plain poison on passes."

Yesterday, most of the Big Seven squads put in scrimmage sessions. Meek sent his players through a scrimmage which ordinarily would have been omitted, but the players have been shifted to new positions because of the injury list and have to gain experience.

Iowa State also put in a lengthy scrimmage against possible Colorado formations.

Colorado concentrated on offensive polish. Coach Del Ward says he expects his boys to be keyed up because of homecoming.

At Lawrence, Kansas wound up its contact work in preparation for Oklahoma.

The University of Missouri tested offensive formations which the Tigers expect to use against Oklahoma A. & M. at Stillwater.

At Lincoln, Coach Bill Glassford picked a 19-year-old sophomore yesterday to replace Bob Reynolds in the Nebraska starting lineup against Penn. State.

Young Bill Thayer will start at left half. He has a reputation as a breakaway runner and has been used mostly for kick-off and punt returns.

And at Norman, Oklahoma coach Bud Wilkinson expressed doubt that his star fullback, Buck McPhail, would be able to play against Kansas.

Horses Fatally Burned At N. M. Fairgrounds

ALBUQERQUE (AP)— Five thoroughbred horses burned to death early today and one was singed in a fire which swept through a nearly deserted stable at the New Mexico State Fair grounds.

Attendants said the dead and injured horses belonged to L. E. Lane and W. D. Rorick of Johnson, Kas.

Grooms for Rorick and Lane said most of the Kansas race horses were moved out after the state fair closed Oct. 5 to a race meet at Phoenix, Ariz.

Asst. fire chief imon Seligman said he had no idea what caused the fire. No estimate of damage was available.

Musial, Doby Get Slugging Titles of Year

NEW YORK (AP)—Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cards and Cleveland's Larry Doby are wearing the 1952 major league slugging crowns today.

Final figures calculated by The Associated Press reveal that Musial accmulated 311 total bases in 578 at bats to pace the National League sluggers with a .538 average. Doby, producing 281 total bases in 519 trips to the plate, topped the American League with a .541 slugging percentage.

Musial's collection of 194 hits included 42 doubles, six triples and 21 home runs. Doby connected for 26 doubles, eight triples and 32 homers among his total of 143 safeties.

Both leaders finished second in last season's slugging derby. Musial posted a .614 mark in 1951 and trailed Pittsburgh's Ralph Kiner, who hit at a .627 clip. Doby, flailing away at .512 pace, was runnerup to Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox. Williams, who was recalled to active duty in the Marines in early season recorded a .556 slugging figure.

For Musial, who owns the highest lifetime slugging percentage in National League history, .579, this was his fifth slugging championship. The slender outfielder-first baseman captured the title in 1943, 1946, 1948, and 1950.

The 31-year-old prolific-swinger also won his sixth batting crown with a .336 average and led in total bases for the fourth time in his career.

Doby, a 27-year-old flychaser, was hampered slightly at the outset by a leg ailment, but he gained momentum as the season progressed. The powerful Tribesman found the range to take the home run title and tie for the runnerup spot in the runs batted in department.

Hank Sauer of the Chicago Cubs finished right behind Musial for National League slugging supremacy with a mark of .529. The husky outfielder, who set the pace for most of the season, amassed 300 total bases in 567 at bats. Sauer belted 37 round-trippers to tie Kiner for the league lead in home runs and his 121 RBI's was tops for the circuit.

Cincinnati's Ted Kluszewski ranked third in the slugging parade with .510, followed by Kiner and Gil Hodges of the Dodgers, both tied for fourth at .500.

Young Mickey Mantle of the Yankees gained runnerup honors in the American League slugging standings with a .528 percentage, achieved on 290 total bases in 549 trips.

Al Rosen of the Indians was third with .522, trailed by teammate Luke Easter in fourth at .513. Vic Wertz, who saw service with both the Detroit Tigers and the St. Louis Browns.

Traveler To Speak

Monday afternoon during the sixth period, Smith-Cotton students will have an opportunity to hear James G. Mosley, noted traveler and lecturer, who will present a movie "Inside Europe." This picture was made by Mr. Mosley last summer in Europe. It will show scenes of historic and present-day interest.

Viewed from Jupiter, the earth would never get far enough from the direction of the sun to be visible with eyes such as ours.

Get Blood at Tipton

TIPTON — Eighty-seven pints of blood were received by the Red Cross bloodmobile unit in Tipton Wednesday, Oct. 8. Altogether there were 100 volunteers.

The unit was here under the sponsorship of the Legion Auxiliary with the Rev. Benedict Harter and the Rev. George R. Igo in charge of arrangements.

The nomadic Micmac Indians of Nova Scotia favored portable wigwams of birch bark that could be folded and packed into canoes.

J. C. Penney Will Be Guest at Ham Breakfast of Royal

J. C. Penney will be the guest of honor and O. R. Johnson will be the speaker at the first American Royal Breakfast, it was announced today by W. E. (Bill) Preston, secretary-manager.

Instigated this year as the opening feature of Missouri Day at the Royal, the event has attracted as much interest that only a few tickets are left, Preston said. Only 1,000 can be accommodated at the fete, which will begin at 7:30 a. m. Tuesday, Oct. 21, at the Hotel Muehlebach.

Penney will receive the first American Royal Distinguisted Missourian Award. Founder of the ¾ million dollar chain stores which bear his name, he was in the headlines recently when he gave his $750,000 Guernsey breeding foundation to the University of Missouri. He is widely respected as both a businessman and farmer, and still maintains several farms noted for their excellent purebred cattle.

Johnson, who will be the speaker, is chairman of the department of agricultural economics at the University of Missouri. He joined the staff there more than 40 years ago as a graduate assistant after his graduation from M. U. He is a member of numerous agricultural and scientific societies, and is a member of the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America.

FLOATING MINING PLANT TAKES A TRIP—One of the most remarkable accomplishments in the history of U. S. industry took place recently with the building and dramatic moving of the world's only floating sulphur mining plant 65 miles from Grande Ecaille, La., to Bay Ste. Elaine. The unique. $2,000,000 plant, built by the Freeport Sulphur Company to extract sulphur from a deposit hundreds of feet beneath Bay Ste. Elaine, will pour nearly 2,000,000 gallons of superheated water (325 degrees F.) into the deposit every 24 hours to melt the sulphur. At full operation, the plant is expected to produce 100,000 long tons of sulphur a year. Photo shows the plant, mounted on a huge steel barge, being towed through a narrow canal in the Louisiana marshland. Most difficult part of the trip was negotiating a 90-degree turn into Bayou Lafourche to get the unwieldy plant through a swing bridge at Leeville.

We hope she does. But she must have a lot of patience and self control. It is enough to have a rent-all man and never know which of your possessions he has rented out — but to have him an inventor, too. As we said before, ladies, you don't know what trouble is.

Rent-all Plans Open House Friday At Its New Building

Ladies — if you think you have troubles you should be married to a rent-all man

It was 1950 that John F. Zander, then secretary of Sedalia Chamber of Commerce, decided to go into the United Rent-all business that has now outgrown its building completely. Johnny is moving into the building on Highway 65, recently vacated by the Weathers' Market, where the firm will hold open house Friday and Saturday.

When Johnny announced his intentions of going in the rent-all business, his wife Lora Lue thot it was a grand idea — but since she has sometimes wondered.

Not too long after the birth of their youngest child, Johnny rushed home one day, took the baby out of his own little bed, where he was peacefully sleeping, put him in a basket and walked off with Ricky's bed. Ricky just kept on sleeping, but Lora Lue was utterly speechless — taking her nice new baby out of his nice new bed so he could rent the bed!

"But," Johnny grinned at his wife, "this is a necessity. This other baby just has to have a bed — and I have all my Rent-all baby beds rented out."

When Lora Lue wanted to bake a ham she looked for her roaster —she simply looked every place— but the roaster was just like a good many other things that seemed suddenly to disappear around her home. Somebody needed a roaster — all of Johnny's roasters were already rented out — and so was Lora Lue's — she found.

"Is nothing safe around this house any more?" she asks her husband.

John was born in Jefferson City, but came to Sedalia when he was six months old, staying here until he was a freshman in high school. Then he went to Independence where he finished high school and went to college at the University of Illinois. He first set up business as a manufacturing agent in Kansas City, where he sold all manner of things to make caskets. It was a "grave" business — said Johnny — in fact you might call it a dead business.

But Johnnie kept seeing that people in the casket business were doing things the hard way so he began inventing things. First, there were casket linings — to make that embossed pattern silk or velvet linings took six to ten hours. So, Johnny invents a little machine something on the order of a waffle iron that did the job in from three to ten minutes. This he called a crushing machine, and he still is selling the machines.

Then he invented a hand steamer. After the crushing machine had put in the pattern, the steam machine was used to hold it in shape. The steamer also was used to fluff up the plush on the casket.

Being a conservative type — at least when it came to casket making, Johnny invented a machine that shredded the scraps of satin, silk or velvet left over — but only one material at a time was used. Then he invented another machine that went with the shredder — it was something like a meat grinder. We haven't been able to figure out whether Johnny's inventions were inspired by the casket business or by food. But this machine was like a meat grinder, he said, with glue in it and out came a long strip of material that was something like bias binding, which was used to trim the caskets.

What he did between that and coming to Sedalia we don't know, but he always had a longing to come back to Sedalia and he did. He became secretary of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce in 1947 and he was there until 1950. But he couldn't think up any good inventions to help the Chamber of Commerce. However, he got pretty steamed up himself, once in awhile, without the aid of a machine.

So, in 1950, he started the United Rent-all — got the franchise from the company, and their know how, bought equipment from them and started out. He had no idea how many people wanted to rent things — and he kept adding and adding. He advertised with the company slogan, "High Chairs to House Jacks" and he found his calls were just about that varied.

Once in awhile he gets a call he can't fill — in fact, he got one for false teeth. Johnny just does not have any false teeth to rent. He doesn't have any airplanes, either.

His business grew and he needed help. And still having his inventing in mind, he began to look around for somebody to take care of the business while he did a little inventing. He has Sidney Vanderlinden in that job. He has been there since last January. Sidney is manager and is also a minister, preaching at a little church near Stover. Then he has Dean Hanning, who was a vocational training student from the Smith-Cotton High School and just stayed right on in the business.

There are seasons on things you rent, said Johnny. People reserve roll-away beds and such things two or three months before the Missouri State Fair. They want punch bowls, glasses, dishes, chairs at Christmas time and New Years and with the weddings in June they really want punch bowls and various things for the big affairs. In the spring and fall they want house cleaning things and yard equipment. In January and February, they want sewing machines and such to catch up on their work that was forgotten over the holiday season. In the summer it is power mowers and things like that.

Johnny has quite a few things to sell, too, as well as rent. And he is now putting in a locker system.

One reason Johnny chose the Rent-all business was because he wanted to go on with his inventing. He has several things in mind — and with the rent-all business he would have all the tools he needed right there to do the job. He isn't the type that can draw his inventions out on paper. He has to work them out by putting them together.

No telling what Lora Lue and the children (Terry Lue, 7, Lora Belle, 4, and John Frederick Jr., a year and a half, who is called Ricky — the Ricky coming from the Frederick), will go through after John gets his inventing underway. But he still thinks the little woman will stick with him—regardless of what he gets into.

Porcupines Eat Cement

WEST GLACIER, Mont. (AP) — Workmen here hope that porcupines, who have been eating cement here, run into some concrete stomach troubles.

A foreman of a crew erecting a shelter cabin in Glacier National Park said the animals have a taste for cement bags as well as almost anything else in sight. One of the workers left a suitcase outside his lodging for a night. The next morning he found that porcupines had eaten all the leather and the bottom out of the bag.

Hal Boyle's Column---

Saul Pett Wishes Hal Boyle Good Trip, Hopes for Column

By SAUL PETT
(For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP)—Dear Hal:

I hope you have a nice vacation. Really I do.

What I mean is, there's no need to feel bad leaving me to do your column while you fish in Spain or take the sun in Capri. No need at all.

'Oh, I've had a little trouble getting off the ground, but don't worry. Looking over the files, I noticed that in just the last few months you've written about balding women, balding men, fur-bearing cows, losing weight, stealing the Queen Mary, office collections, how to spoil a wife, in defense of the common cold, how to make a million dollars, about politics, life, death, war, peace, love and hate.

That, of course, leaves me plenty of room. You've scarcely touched advanced calculus, the dialectic overtones of nihilism or the best way to install a remote-control wiring system.

Looking for ideas, I've roamed through the whole office, but, it seems, you beat me to it. Every brain around here has been picked clean. The folks here now act like people in a small town after a carnival has passed through. They just ain't talking to any more strangers.

For the last 36 hours, I've followed my kids around with pencil and paper but they haven't said anything particularly funny or poignant. True, Kathy, the six-year-old keeps yelling she wants a loose tooth, but how much can you do with that? Besides, whatever clever things the kids have done in the past, you've already written about. (Remind me to keep you away from my children.)

My wife hasn't been much help, either. It must be at least two weeks since she picked on me. Ordinarily, I would count myself lucky but, now this leaves me with no ammunition to renew the battle of the sexes.

Talking to a man up at the zoo, I thought I had an idea. But even that subject is tied up. Someone else is doing "How to Live With a Skunk."

And where have all the press agents gone to? The best they have come up with so far is a tip on a dog trainer who is taking public speaking courses at New York University. I called the guy and asked him why and he said to get more authority in his voice. That about covered that.

I talked to another fellow who said he had just come across country from California by motorcycle and had some fresh ideas on the international situation. Fine, I said and took out my pencil. But then he suggested I submit my questions in writing and he would answer them in writing.

Not much point, I said, and, besides, wouldn't we look silly passing notes back and forth like a couple of spies? He shrugged and said, well, it was just a suggestion.

Now about your trip, I said, and he said, just a moment. You understand, he said, 'I'll have to charge you for the interview. Period, thirty, end story.

But don't worry, Hal, something will turn up. Meanwhile, I hope you have a grand time. Really I do.

Jr. Red Cross First Aid Class On November 1

A two-hour course in Junior Red Cross first aid will be given at the Smith-Cotton High School auditorium Nov. 1 at 9:30 a. m. under the direction of Michael Wolfel, chairman of the Red Cross safety services committee, he announced Wednesday afternoon.

Instruction will be given in the treatment and dressing of wounds, immobilizing a fracture, transporting the injured, artificial respiration and the use of the triangular bandage.

First aid kit refills and Junior Red Cross enrollment and gift boxes will be given out at the meeting.

Wolfel expressed the hops that especially those children who serve on school patrols and at school recreation grounds will be able to attend.

Ottervillers Are Visitors In 3 States

By Mrs. Cora Cordry

OTTERVILLE—C. W. Cline and Charles spent from Friday until Tuesday in Denver, Colo., with their son and brother, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Cline.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Wear and their daughter, Mrs. Hubert Shrout, Mr. Shrout and son, Timothy, Bunceton, were weekend guests of their son and brother, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Wear, McClouth, Kan.

Mrs. Raymond Kuykendall attended a telephone convention at Macon, Wednesday.

Mrs. Lawrence Castle, Carolyn and Larry, and her sister, Mrs. Naoma Schroeder and two sons, Warsaw, were weekend guests of their sister, Mr. and Mrs. Verle Woods and family, Miami, Okla.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Borchardt and sons, Larry, Kansas City, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wherley Cline, recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Lacer, Mrs. Lucy Steele, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Goode and family, Sedalia, Mrs. Pearle Duvall, Mr. and Mrs. Durward Goode and Charles attended a wiener roast Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Lewis.

Mrs. J. L. Spillers, who suffered a light stroke last week, is convalesing satisfactorily.

Miss Lois Bente, Independence, spent last week at her home here. Her sister, Mrs. Lawrence Schroder, Jefferson City, was a guest.

Mrs. Jennie Phillips has returned home from Sedalia following a visit with her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Cooper.

Mr. and Mrs. Linter Shults, and family, Knob Noster, were here to visit with his parents, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Moore spent Sunday with relatives in Warrensburg.

Miss Lillian Shults, Boonville, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Shults.

Mrs. Ira Homan went to Batesville, Ark., Thursday to attend the marriage of her sister. She plans to be gone two weeks.

Neale Goode, Jefferson City, spent a few days last week with his son, Mr. and Mrs. Duward Goode and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. John Rogers and daughter, Oklahoma, City, Okla., visited recently with his sister, Mrs. Lorene Klien and Mr. and Mrs. Emil Rogers.

The Rev. and Mrs. John Muncy were weekend guests in Kansas City and attended ordination services for his 17 year old brother at Cameron Sunday.

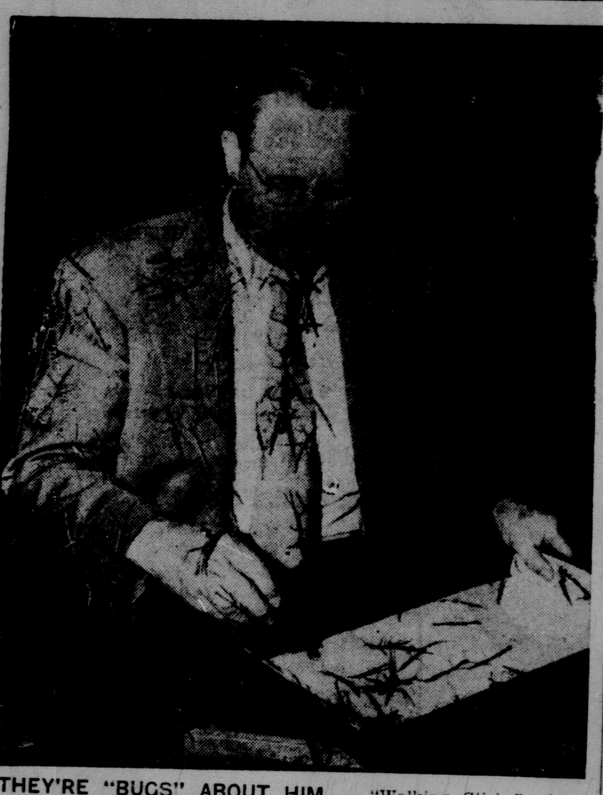
Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Burford have bought the Westerfield residence property in the west part of town and plan to move from their country home real soon.

Mrs. Bertha Glenn and Mrs. Douglas Glenn spent Saturday night and Sunday in Kansas City with their son and husband, who has employment there.

Tom Edwards, California, visited friends here last Monday.

The Rebekah Home Club met Wednesday evening with Mrs. Durward Goode. The president presided over the meeting and Mrs. Jess Straten read a poem. The mystery package, given by Mrs. Loren Bane, went to Mrs. James Wear. The social hour was in charge of Mrs. Wear. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Cecil Rogers and Mrs. Goode.

England had often been overrun before the Norman conquest of 1066; among the conquerors were the Romans, Saxons, Danes and Norsemen.



THEY'RE "BUGS" ABOUT HIM — "Walking Sticks" give entomologist R. A. St. George an enthusiastic welcome at Polish Mountains, Md., where the scientist from the Department of Agriculture's Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine is studying the insects. The strange creatures have defoliated hundreds of hardwood trees in western Maryland, and St. George is seeking ways to curb their breeding.

Japan Trains Technicians

TOKYO (AP) — The Japanese government plans to spend up to $83,000 to send technicians to Southeast Asia countries and for training students from that area in Japan.

Kyodo News Agency says the program was the first step in carrying out closer economic collaboration with Southeast Asia countries. Trade with Communist China has been frowned uptn by the government which hopes to find new markets.

Ill May Vote In November

Any person who expects to be prevented through illness or physical disability from going to the polling place on Nov. 4 may file application with the county clerk for an absentee ballot.

The application must be accompanied by a statement by the voter's physician reaffirming the voter's in ability to go to the polls. A blank application form may be acquired at the county clerk's office now and must be filed within 30 days of, and not later than 6 p.m., Nov. 3. The blanks include a space for the physician's statement.

Should the voter recover in time to attend the polls or should he move about in the county on election day, the absentee ballot will be declared void. Therefore, the voter should notify the county clerk of his recovery before 6 p.m. Nov. 5. the day after election day.

The legislative act providing for absentee ballots for those physically unable to attend the polls is four years old, but this will be only the second time it has been put to use. In 1950 there were 90 people in Pettis County unable to attend the polls and who voted by absentee ballot.

This year there have been only eight or nine such ballots applied for, according to Jim Green, county clerk, but he expects many more before Nov. 4. Applications have been filed for 103 regular absentee ballots and 130 war ballots for servicemen.

Big Plots For Schools

SAVANNAH, (AP) — The present trend in building schools is to lose the building in a large tract of land, according to Savannah delegates to the southeastern conference of the American Institute of Architects at Atlanta.

The group said the average school built last year was located on 20 acres — three or four times the sie of elementary and high school tracts of the past.

The architects recommend structures spread over a comfortable area, connected by side corridors, with related activities housed together.

One-story schools are safest, architects said, and 85 per cent of school buildings constructed last year were without basements.

Whiskey Sale Backfires

VANCOUVER, Canada (AP) — A 21-year-old police operative testified in court that a defendant had sold a bottle of whiskey to him and another operative. Wehn defense counsel asked the witness if his parents approved his activities, he replied: "The other operative was my father."

THERE'S LESS THAN MEETS THE EYE—Something new in convertible, dual-purpose sports clothes for men was recently unveiled by a London tailoring firm. At left, a model displays what looks like a conventional, full-length, belted sports jacket. The revolutionary part of the design is revealed at right, where the skirt of the coat, attached by a slide fastener, is being removed. The resultant short "battle jacket" is suitable for golf and other activities which a full-length coat might hinder. Slide fastener is completely hidden from sight under the belt.

Pfc. Alvin Lutjen Works With 'Copters In Korea Training

WITH THE 25TH INFANTRY DIV. IN KOREA—Pfc. Alvin E. Lutjen, Cole Camp, is learning how to work with the Army helicopter in Korea.

He has been participating in the 25th Infantry Division's training program designed to train foot soldiers in how to clear and mark landing sites, indicate wind directions, mark hazards and assist 'copter pilots in loading and unloading the crafts.

Helicopters in Korea have been invaluable in evacuating wounded directly to the hospital and in transporting supplies to isolated areas of the front lines.

Lutjen, who entered the Army in August 1951, is a radio operator in the 64th Field Artillery Battalion. He has been serving in Korea since last May.

Rev. Patrick Hanley Chaplain In Korea

First Lt. Patrick H. Hanley of Troy, N. Y., has assumed duties as chaplain of 3d Infantry Division Artilley in Korea. Former pastor of St. Peter and Paul Church in Cole Camp, Chaplain Hanley entered the Army in September 1951. He graduated from the Chaplains School at Fort Slacum, N. Y., and was stationed at Brooke Army Hospital, Ft. Sam Houston, Tex., before going to the Far East. Hanley is a graduate of St. Boneventure College, Allegheny, N. Y., and holds a licentiate of theology from Catholic University, Washington, D. C.

Montgomery Clift Still Quiet Misunderstood Star of Films

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The movie crowd has never been able to understand Montgomery Clift.

The quiet young actor from Omaha, Neb., flashed on the film horizon five years ago. He was an immediate sensation with movie audiences and attracted a young following that was reminiscent of Frank Sinatra's. But he made no effort to cash in on his new fame.

He failed to feed his following with enough pictures to keep his name in lights. Instead, he turned down script after script. He acted in only five pictures in his entire film career. After being away from the cameras for almost three years, he is back for another picture, "I Confess."

Clift is noted for being able to elude an interviewer's questions like a Notre Dame halfback. But I persisted and pinned him down on how he has managed his movie career.

"I don't want to appear overly choosy in the way I pick scripts," he remarked. "But I feel an obligation to those who want to see me on the screen. I want to be sure they see me in a picture. The only way to do that is to pick scripts as carefully as possible."

He admitted that by appearing in so few films he has neglected the clamorous young audience that greeted his film debut.

"I'm sorry about that," he said. It's good to have those kids on your side. But to keep them I'd have to make two or three pictures every year. I don't want to make pictures just for the sake of making pictures. I want them to be good."

Clift reported that he often turns down good scripts merely because he thinks the leading part doesn't fit him. He mentioned one highly successful Western which he refused because he felt he was too young for the role.

"Unfortunately, there are a lot of good parts that call for an older man," he said. "And I happen to look younger than I really am." He'll be 32 tomorrow.

Clift declared that he will continue his formula of picking and choosing. If it's any consolation to the film industry, he has just as much trouble finding a play. He has been looking for several years.

New Map Of Canada

OTTAWA, Canada (AP) — A new map of Canada, the first new one in 22 years, will soon be rolling off the presses giving an up-to-date topographical picture of the country from the 49th parallel to the North Pole.

Newfoundland which joined the confederation in 1949, gets on the map as part of Canada for the first time. New island, lakes, rivers and towns previously unshown or even unknown, will be on the map. The 36-inch square map will have some 7,000 place names. The only roads shown will be those in the north and the Alaska Highway and the Mackenzie Highway.

Beachy Head, Britain's majestic chalk promontory overlooking the English Channel, is 575 feet high.

Long Island, N. Y., has an area of 1,723 square miles, and is smaller than the romantic East Indian isle of Bali, which is 2,147 square miles.

1836. The ALAMO, San Antonio, Texas.

LANDMARK IN HISTORY — Facing Alamo Plaza in the heart of San Antonio, this ancient thick-walled structure has been standing for over two hundred years. It was probably the chapel of a Spanish Mission and derived its name from the nearby grove of alamo trees. During Texas' fight for freedom from Mexico General Santa Anna led over 4000 soldiers against San Antonio, where Colonel Travis with only 188 men (including the famous Colonel Bowie and the hunter Davy Crockett) had entrenched himself in the Alamo. These brave defenders held off the enemy for eleven days until March 6, 1836, when every man had given his life. On April 21, 1836, the main Texan Army, inspired by their battle cry "Remember the Alamo," met and defeated Santa Anna at San AP Newsfeatures

WHIRLING PATTERN OF LIGHTS—Time exposure on lights of "Flying Dutchman" creates dizzying effect at Autumn Fair in Munich, Germany. At right is a ferris wheel.

TOP-BILLING THIS TIME—Adlai Stevenson was second-man on the banner in 1892, when Grover Cleveland campaigned for the presidency, as shown in this ancient piece of campaign bunting, which was found in an antique shop in Sudbury, Conn., by Robert Souder. Today, another Adlai, Stevenson's grandson, is campaigning, but this time for the top position on the Democratic ticket. Helen Silvestri, left, and Marge Kelly display the banner in New York.

Old Dobbin Now Having Special Week

DENVER (AP)—Consider, please, as you skim along in that high-powered car or plane, that now is the time for all good men to honor the horse.

For—you know, and if you don't take heed—it's National Save the Horse Week.

So, okay, you don't feel like saving a horse. You've never been near one? And, after all, what's a horse ever done—for most of us?

But, lest we forget, spare a gasoline-fumed minute or so, and read of a "raneykaboo" and horses, too.

This business was the brain child of Harry Galbraith, a one-time Colorado cowpuncher. Harry loved horses.

A decade or so ago, he became alarmed at the decline of the horse in this country.

He sent letters far and wide seeking support for a national horse week, peppered the White House with request for official recognition of the horse.

One day, Galbraith, sitting in a Colorado Springs cafe, looked over a Commerce Department bulletin, discovered listings of all national "weeks" proclaimed by executive order. He thereupon figured out the "ranneykaboo"—rangeland lingo for "a fast one."

He blistered the Commerce Department by telegram for omitting National Save the Horse Week. Back came a letter of apology. The next year before publication of the bulletin, Galbraith received a letter asking for more information. He telegraphed and the next bulletin not only proclaimed the week as official—which it was not—but gave full information.

A few months later, friends found Galbraith dead in the back seat of an abandoned automobile where he had been sleeping. It was the first anyone knew that he had no personal quarters.

This year the Commerce Department sought information but couldn't locate Galbraith. It wrote Robert W. (Red) Fenwick, Denver Post staff writer, ex-Wyoming horseman of sorts and a fellow conspirator in Galbraith's plottings.

"The week lives," Fenwick wrote, "not only to perpetuate the memory and the flesh of horses everywhere, but to honor the memory of an old cowpuncher who gave all he had to the cause and who died with fewer of the comforts of life than are enjoyed by many of the beasts who had in Harry Galbraith their staunchest friend."

13 County 4-H Club Members Take Baby

Thirteen Pettis County 4-H baby beef project members took their fat calves to the American Royal Thursday. They are: Jo Ann and Harrel Lee Nicholson, Catherine and Robert DeBoard, Jimmie Wood and Kenneth Rhine of Hillview 4-H Club; Wayne and Larry Templeton and Alice Marie Chevalier of Pleasant Green 4-H; Robert and Eleanor Leftwich of Longwood 4-H and Marion and J. D. Gregory of Prairie Ridge 4-H.

These 4-H'ers plan to show and sell 15 fat steers, 12 of which are Herefords and three Angus. These steers were in place by 11 a. m. Thursday. They were to be sifted at 12:30 p. m. and the animals sifted out will be sold on Friday. The steers that are not sifted out will show at 8 a. m. Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Conway, Jim and Annette were dinner guests Sunday of his mother, and brother at Nelson.

Mrs. Everett Heryer, Oklahoma City, Okla., the former Ada Belle Elliott of this vicinity, was married Oct. 4 to Forrest Brown, Kansas City. They will reside in Kansas City.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanton Elliott spent Saturday in Warrensburg with their daughter, Miss Zora Lee Elliott, Raytown, who was attending a teachers meeting.

The achievement day for Extension Clubs will be held Friday, Oct. 17, at an all day session at the Baptist Church in Sedalia. Hughesville Women's Extension Club, Smelser and Meet Your Neighbor have all planned exhibits.

George Ruffin, student supply pastor from CMSC, held services at the Baptist Church Sunday. He, his wife and baby were dinner guests of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Funk.

Dwarf Apple Trees

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Experiments with dwarf apple trees at the University of Kentucky experiment station indicate that this type of tree may be grown in the backyard.

Dr. C. S. Waltman says that early production, easy spraying and harvesting make them practical. The trees, planted at the experiment station farm 10 years ago, are 10 feet tall and produced as much as nine bushels a tree.

The trees begin bearing fruit as early as the second or third year, he reports. They should be planted 10 to 15 feet apart in the late fall or early spring.

Middle East Build-Up

EDITOR'S NOTE: To tell the story behind the Middle East Build-Up — a build-up vital to our stake in all the world— NEA assigned Hal Lehrman, prize - winning newsman, authority and lecturer on Europe and the Middle East. For the past 10 years his disptaches and articles from the area have appeared in America's top newspapers and magazines. Just back from another reporting swing through the Middle East, he went to Washington to wrap up this new report. This is the first of four dispatches.

By HAL LEHRMAN
Written for NEA Service

WASHINGTON — The United States is on the threshold of a new and vast military commitment: large scale contribution of American dollars, planning and fighting power for the defense of the Middle East.

The Pentagon is now determined to show Russia that we have not excluded this vital area from the defense perimeter of the free world or left it to United Nations protection as was Korea.

Purely military factors have influenced top brass in all services toward this reversal of policy, irrespective of the Nov. 4 presidential election.

However, the more robust tone of American political debate may have created an atmosphere more favorable to so monumental a decision—to make another major military investment in a new theater while still heavily committed in Korea and western Europe.

The new policy amounts to this: determination that we cannot afford to let Russia get its clutches on the great oil pools of the Mid-East, pry open the back door to Europe or blockade one of the main aerial highways our atom bombers would have to traverse in retaliation if Russia should march against the West.

Highly dependable people I have just talked to here say this change in thinking came about because:

1. The life - and - death importance of the southern Mediterranean hinterland, from Alexandria to Baghdad, has become ominously clearer every day.

2. British military power, on which we have relied to hold the area safe, can no longer do the job.

3. Stimulated by nationwide debate over foreign policy, public and Congressional opinion is more receptive to a brave new extension of defense involvements.

4. The steady strengthening of our military establishment and arms manufacturing potential makes such an extension more feasible.

5. A glimmer of hope now exists of getting cooperation from the Arabs in their own defense.

A fresh breed of younger "strong man" has recently emerged in the Middle East, notably in the two most important Arab states, Egypt and Syria. These new rulers are not only less "neutral" in the East-West conflict. They have also begun long-overdue economic, social and political reforms.

If energetically pursued, it is felt, such reforms can relieve the destitution of the Arab masses, give them something worth defending, make them less prone to blame the West's "imperialism" for their misery or swallow Communist promises of pie in the sky.

Earlier U.S. actions engaged this country in Middle East planning. But these were State Department political decisions. Nobody in the Pentagon is yet believed ready to blueprint the actual allocation of guns, tanks or planes to the area.

But the hard fact that the services now agree the Middle East must be fortified may have momentous practical results.

How momentous may be gauged by the consequences of a previous U.S. commitment to take over the military areas of Greece and Turkey from the British in 1947.

That decision has been costing us about a million dollars a day ever since for Greece alone. But it has paid off by snatching that country from Communist conquest, drilling the Turks into one of the best fighting machines in Europe, and extending our "North Atlantic" firing-line to the Turkist foothills of Soviet Asia.

Pentagon unanimity appears to vindicate the U.S. Navy's previous lone stand that the Middle East must be secured because it sits astride world communications and is a giant oil tank for the fleet.

But the visible crumbling of British political and military control has created an intolerable power vacuum. If the Soviets move in, our air chiefs now see their North African positions exposed to Arab-based Red assault, and our land generals see their armies in Europe menaced from the south.

Except for Israel, which has a skilled, mechanized fighting force, little hope of substantial help — to say nothing of filling the vacuum—is placed in native contingents.

But the training and equipment of local forces would at least stabilize the region and give the Western allies some military foundation to work with in case of war. And, as a minimum, even non-combatant Arab collaboration would greatly simplify the problems of military supply and movement.

Last November, Egypt rebuffed Western invitation to a proposed "Middle East Command."

Now the British are circulating a "paper" among the powers concerned—the U.S., France, Turkey, South Africa, Australia and New Zealand—outlining a "Middle East Defense Organization" which emphasizes planning and consultation rather than an actual command.

MEDO, shrewd observers say, is actually only a prior step to "Middle East Command."

In the event of continued Arab reluctance, however, a determined Pentagon will probably stand by the British in organizing a Middle Eastern defense apparatus anyway—with teeth—leaving the Arabs to come in if and when a Moscow move compels them.

THESE ARAB HANDS are raised against the West in a demonstration in Iran. But new Middle East build-up offers hope of a change of attitude as U. S. military brass reverses its policy.

Hoover Group Report Improves Efficiency But Saves Little

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate committee credited the Hoover commission today with helping to improve the efficiency of the federal government but said the resultant savings proposals had been greatly exaggerated.

A report of the Senate Committee on Government Operations summarized action taken by the last two Congresses on recommendations of the Commission on Government Reorganization set up under the chairmanship of former President Herbert Hoover.

The Senate committee said the Hoover Commission made 281 specific recommendations, adding that an estimated 90 per cent of these "have been fully considered and have received direct action by the Congress or its committees"—either favorable or unfavorable.

Still remaining are 28 recommendations "which will require further action by the Congress if adequate consideration is to be given to them," the report said.

The committee report, submitted by Chairman McClellan (D-Ark), took sharp exception to what it called "extravagant claims of tremendous monetary savings" that would be brought about by adoption of the commission's proposals for streamlining the executive branch of the government.

The committee said it had been unable to find any sound basis for some of these claims, which it said have varied "from an ultra-conservative figure of a few million to as much as 10 billions of dollars in annual savings."

"Even if all the Hoover Commission's recommendations had been found to be of practical application, these estimates are not based on facts and are grossly unfair to the Congress," the report added.

Turning directly to the Citizens Committee for the Hoover Report, the Senate committee said this group had failed to offer "any support for its claim that eventual annual savings would aggregate four billion dollars."

The senators also disputed a statement attributed to the citizens committee that economies of $1,244,600,000 were being realized as a resul of the Hoover Report recommendations.

"The citizens committee failed to specify the basis for such estimates and submitted no facts to substantiate its claims that savings of 800 million in the military and more than 400 million in other reorganizations were related to specific Hoover Commission recommendations," the Senate report said.

The committee report said, however, that the Hoover Commission studies "served to focus public attention upon the many deficiencies in the operations of the federal government which the Congress had been unable to correct because of the lack of any general or united support."

Taft Meeting His Backers, Talks for Ike

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio stumped Utah Wednesday in an effort to unite his preconvention supporters behind Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Republican presidential nominee.

He delivered blistering attacks upon administration foreign policy, "corruption in government" and defended the Taft-Hartley Labor Law as an act to "keep the government from interfering in collective bargaining."

Taft was welcomed warmly by good-sized crowds in Ogden, on the campus of Utah State College at Logan and in Salt Lake City. Many of those who supported him in his unsuccessful bid for the GOP nomination wore bright red "Taft" buttons.

He told an audience at Ogden that to hear President Truman and Gov. Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, tell it "you'd think the world began 20 years ago."

"They try to give the impression," he said "there wasn't a good sized privy on a farm in the United States before 1932."

Taft said the Taft-Hartley Law is based on "free collective bargaining." And the worker in this country has raised his standard of living because of free collective bargaining, the senator said, "not because of the Democratic party."

In his Salt Lake City speech, Taft hammered at "corruption in government" and documented scandals from the WPA in the 1930s to recent investigations of the Internal Revenue Bureau.

He accused President Truman of telling a "big lie" when he said in a campaign speech that he had cleaned up corruption wherever he found it.

The Ohio senator placed the blame for the Korean War on Secretary of State Dean Acheson and a weak foreign policy.

He said the State Department called the Chinese Communists "agrarian reformers" and wrote China off with a shrug. Formosa would be lost, too, he said, "if Acheson had his way about it."

At Logan, he said "Mister Truman thinks he has a divine right" to rule. A crowd of approximately 2,500 persons roared when he said the President planned to seize all the cattle in the U. S. in 1946 "but he finally gave it up—because it seemed impractical."

Throughout all his talks, he hammered away at the theme that the only choice a voter has to get "honesty and integrity in government" is to vote for Eisenhower and his running mate, Sen. Richard Nixon of California.

Taft planned to fly to Hastings for campaigning stops in Nebraska today, before continuing to his home in Ohio.

By NEA Service

Here are the detailed health facts about the Republican and Democratic presidential candidates. The questions were prepared for NEA Service by George H. Roberts, M.D., F.A.C.S., of New York. The replies are from Maj.-Gen. Howard Snyder, MCUSA, (Retired), for Eisenhower and Emmet Pearson, M.D., F.A.C.S., Springfield, Ill., for Stevenson.

QUESTION	STEVENSON	EISENHOWER
1. Date of last physical examination?	June 12, 1952	Chest X-ray May, 1952
2. What illness, if any, past five years?	Ureteral calculus (kidney stone) June, 1952.	Acute gastro-enteritis (intestinal flu) March, 1949. Virus and streptococcus infection complicated by acute conjunctivitis and left iritis (eye infection) May, 1952.
(a) If any major illness has recovery been complete?	Yes	Yes
(b) Has there been any surgical operation, if so for what?	Instrument extraction of stone from ureter June 22, 1952.	Tonsillectomy and appendectomy years ago.
3. Have there been any symptoms indicating cardiovascular disease, such as . . . (a) shortness of breath on exertion?	None	No
(b) Pain in the chest induced by effort?	No	No
(c) In last physical exam what was blood pressure?	110/72	134/90
(d) Were pulse and respiratory rates within normal limits before and after exercise?	Yes	Pulse rate recent years averages 72-92 to 96 after exercise and returns to 72-74 within two minutes.
(e) Was an electrocardiogram (graph of electrical effects produced by heart contraction) taken?	Yes	Yes—August, 1952
(f) If so were there any significant abnormalities?	None	No
(g) Was a chest X-ray taken?	Yes	Yes, 1952
(h) What did it show?	Normal size heart, lungs	No abnormalities
4. Have there been any chronic respiratory symptoms, if so what?	None	None
5. Have there been any symptoms suggesting presence of gastro-intestinal disease?	None	No
(a) Has a gastro-intestinal X-ray been performed?	Yes	Yes
(b) Has gall bladder been X-rayed?	Yes	Yes (gall bladder functions test was included).
(c) If these studies were made were findings normal?	Normal	Yes
6. Have there been any genito-urinary tract symptoms?	Yes	No
(a) If so of what nature?	Severe pain in left side when kidney stone was passing down ureter May 30-June 22, 1952.	None
(b) What was the result of urinalysis?	Normal now	Always normal (last urinalysis August, 1952).
7. In addition to the purely medical questions listed above, would you regard person in question as physically and emotionally equipped to meet the demands of a position in which he would be subjected to extreme physical and emotional pressure?	Yes	Yes

Dr. Pearson wrote the following addenda concerning Stevenson: "The governor has had physical checkups regularly since he has been governor. In addition to the above findings, it should be stated that no other physical defects have been discovered and other laboratory tests including blood counts, blood chemical analyses, stool examinations, blood sedimentation rate and basal metabolism rate have been made and results were normal. The governor is fit to play several sets of tennis without strain. He has excellent nervous and emotional stability. He tolerated severe pain of kidney colic without signs of anguish; on one occasion he continued to make an address before a large audience while pain was present. On another occasion the pain struck during the night but he waited until after breakfast time the next morning before calling for medical aid."

Peron's Theme of One Car In Every Garage Attracts

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — A new theme of "one car in every garage" is being sounded by President Juan D. Peron. This program sounds particularly attractive in Argentina, where only one person in 70 owns a car.

General Motors, Ford and Chrysler have assembly plants in Buenos Aires, but have not fabricated cars for themselves since early 1948. Peron's government, to save foreign exchange, has refused to grant import licenses to the firms. Some few licenses have been given to persons with contacts in the government.

The result is a market where new chevrolets are selling for $6,000 plus. Cadillacs, much beloved by Argentina's new aristocracy, carry $10,000 price tags. That puts car ownership far out of reach of the average Argentine, who earns perhaps $100 a month.

To give these workers some hope, and also to encourage a nationalistic spirit, the government announced last march that it would build motor cars in its Aerotechnical Institute at Cordoba.

The explanation was that it had a lot of expensive machinery there for building planes for the Argentine Air Force, but a shortage of materials was leaving the plat idle, so they'd build automobiles instead.

The car, a lightweight two-cylinder job, is to be produced in three models—a sedan, a station wagon and a pickup truck. It is called "Justicialista" after Peron's political program.

Three prototypes were presented to Peron May 1 and it was announced 5,000 models would be produced within a year. Peron, in a later speech, promised that within five years Argentina would be exporting instead of importing cars.

So far the factory has not announced prices. The impression exists that the factory is still in the planning stage and that it will be some time before cars are being produced in any numbers.

Argentina's automobile dealers are finding the going rough. Their new car business—due to the import ban—is at a virtual standstill. Their parts and service departments are carrying the load for the entire organization. Some firms have gone into sidelines, selling refrigerators, television sets, washing machines, stoves, bicycles and X-ray equipment.

Alaskan Demos Win Congress, Lose Legislature

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — Alaskans apparently returned their Democratic delegate to Congress, but the first day's counting of Tuesday's general election vote showed a tide toward a Republican Legislature.

Late returns from the Anchorage area last night boosted Delegate E. L. Bartlett's lead to nearly 2,400 votes — apparently decisive but whittled down sharply from his 2-1 victory margin of 1950.

In the political "weathervane" legislative races, the Republicans, who campaigned on the party's national "It's time for a change" slogan, had an edge for 26 out of 33 seats in the Legislature.

Republicans were leading by varying margins for 19 of the 24 seats, for the whole territory, in the lower house. In the present Legislature, the Democrats have held a 14 to 10 edge.

Republicans were leading for seven out of nine territorial Senate seats. The incumbents were six Democrats and three Republicans.

The election, especially the legislative, is viewed as a barometer to indicate what the national election trend may be because of the parallel between trends in Alaska elections and the subsequent national voting for many years.

The delegate to Congress vote from 115 of the territory's 249 precincts was:

Bartlett, the Democratic incumbent, 10,020; Robert C. Reeve, a well known airline operator and the Republican nominee, 7,638.
